FEATURES OF THE AUSTIN "10 H.P."

THE Austin Ten had a very favourable reception upon its introduction, and has gained consistently in public favour ever since, so that now it is one of the most popular cars on the road.

THE four-cylinder engine, water cooled, with detachable head, is neat and compact. Its output of power is smooth, very flexible and will maintain a high cruising speed. The "pick up" is exceptionally good. The engine is suspended at three points. Rubber mountings are used to absorb vibration.

THE top and third speeds have synchromesh engagement, and second, third and top speed gears are in constant mesh to ensure silent running.

THE new cross-braced chassis frame is rigid and stronger. A feature of the "Ten" is its riding comfort, due to the load being carried within the wheel base, its low centre of gravity and its special springing.

THE coachwork is shapely and modern in line, the doors are wide, the floor low, there is ample head, elbow and foot room, the front seats are adjustable and the upholstery deep and comfortable.

INDOOR GARDENING.

Writing on this subject in the Weekly Irish Times, the Garden Correspondent says:—Zonal Pelargoniums for autumn and winter flowering should now be in six-inch pots, plunged in ashes out of doors. Keep all blooms picked off, and give weak liquid manure occasionally. Potting of Ferns, Aspidistras, etc., should be performed now, and seedlings of Primulas, Cinerarias, etc., picked off as soon as large enough to handle into boxes of sandy soil. In conservatories just now Liliums, Begonias, Geraniums and many other flowering plants should be giving a good return for the care bestowed on them. During bright weather see that the shading is in perfect order.

THE CHURCH OF IRELAND.

The Rev. P. W. Carter has tendered his resignation of the incumbency of Clane to the Archbishop of Dublin owing to ill-health. He was ordained in 1900, and was formerly incumbent of Kilbride, Arklow, and of St. Jude's, Inchicore, being appointed to Clane in 1929. The Church of St. Michael and All Angels, Clane, is one of the most beautiful parish churches in Ireland. It is a perfect example of Celtic Romanesque, and was erected by the late Mr. Cooke Trench in memory of his wife.

The Rev. J. E. Tomlinson, incumbent of Wicklow since 1930, has also submitted his resignation. He was ordained in 1901, and has been curate of St. Paul's, Glenageary, and incumbent of Ballinaclash.

The Rev. G. Browne, secretary of the Zenana Missionary Society, has been nominated to the incumbency of Horetown and Taghmon, in the diocese of Ferns.

RATHFARNHAM PARISH CHURCH.

Mr. Walter K. Beckett has been appointed organist and director of the choir of Rathfarnham Parish Church.

New Bacon Factory.—Messrs. Henry Denny and Sons, Ltd., the Limerick firm of bacon curers, have acquired extensive premises at Obin street, Portadown, and will shortly open a large factory there. The new factory was formerly occupied by Messrs. McCammon and Scott, bacon curers, but the premises have been vacant for the past ten years. Upwards of 1,500 pigs will be handled weekly when Messrs. Denny's Portadown factory is opened.

TIPPERARY MEN SENTENCED.

STORY OF RAID FOR ARMS.

TRIBUNAL CHARGE.

CHARGES of conspiracy to steal firearms from the house of Austin Cooper, Killenure, Dundrum, Co. Tipperary, were preferred before the Military Tribunal yesterday against John Flynn (21), Boherclough street, Cashel; John Kennedy (24), Clonespore, Dundrum, Co. Tipperary, and Henry Crummey, Ballydine, Cashel. They were also charged with forcible entry into the house, assault upon Timothy Ryan, riot, possession of a shotgun and ammunition with intent to endanger life, and the illegal possession of firearms. John Kennedy was charged on a separate count with giving a false and misleading account of his movements to an officer of the Guards. Henry Crummey was charged separately with having failed and refused to give information in his possession when questioned at Dundrum Police Station.

Flynn and Kennedy pleaded not guilty to all the charges, and Crummey pleaded not guilty to all the charges except the illegal possession of a shotgun, to which he entered a plea of guilty.

Mr. William Black (instructed by Mr. J. S. O'Connor, solicitor to the Attorney-General), who conducted the prosecution, made an application that Crummey and Flynn should be tried separately, as the State was relying on statements which they had made to the police. Kennedy, however, had made a different kind of statement. If the other two accused men were acquitted, Kennedy would probably be acquitted as a matter of course, but, if they were convicted, he (Mr. Black) would wish to call them as witnesses in the trial of Kennedy.

The application was granted, and Kennedy was removed from the court.

PLUCKY OLD MAN.

Mr. Black, opening the case, said that Mr. and Mrs. Austin Cooper, who lived at Killenure, near Cashel, went out to an entertainment on April 26. The case for the State, which was founded almost entirely on the statements made by these men, was that they and Kennedy agreed that they would go and steal firearms from the Coopers.

Timothy Ryan, gardener in the employment of the Cooper family, said that he heard noises at the door of the house about 10 o'clock. He asked who was there, and a voice replied: "The Guards on duty." He replied that the Guards had no business there, and refused to open the door. The people outside then said that they would break in the door and did so. One was armed with a shotgun and another with a revolver, and a shot was fired over his head. They told him to put his hands up, and he refused to do so. They tried to get in by the kitchen door, but he held the latch. One of them tried to pull him away, and he (witness) kicked at him. He was hit with a revolver on the head and with a gun on the wrist. He yelled, and the men ran away. As a result of the blow on the wrist he had not been able to work since. He could not identify the men.

Flynn—The Guards put you up to that statement?—That is not true.

Inspector Convery, Tipperary, said that Crummey had no certificate for firearms. He had taken statements from Crummey and Flynn, in which they admitted participation in the raid.

Crummey—I object to that. I did not make any statements. I was forced to sign my name to several sheets of paper, and I did not know what was on them.

Flynn—The questions you put to me were concerning the I.R.A., and how many rifles they had, and I thought that that was what I was signing. Any question you asked me was answered by Sergeant Kelly, and you told him to shut up about twenty times.

Crummey asked witness if he had been present in Dundrum Barracks, when D.O. Brown beat him (Crummey) around the face.

Witness replied that he was not.

POLICE EVIDENCE.

To Mr. Black, witness said that he did not order the sergeant to leave the room while he was interrogating Flynn. The statements were read over to the men before they signed them.

Flynn—You did not read it over to me. You told me you would convict me whatever happened, and that you had to get someone for it.

Crummey—I did not recognise the court in Dundrum because I wanted to come to this Court to get a fair trial.

Superintendent O'Shea said Flynn had no certificate to possess firearms.

Detective-Sergeant Kelly, Tipperary, was called, and was asked by Flynn how many times the Inspector had told him to shut up while he (Flynn) was being interrogated. Witness said he did not hear the Inspector say anything like that.

Flynn—Then you must be deaf.

Crummey—Were you in Dundrum when Detective-Officer Brown beat me and knocked me off the form, and tried to choke me?—No.

Flynn—It is not the first time you framed fellows.

Sergeant O'Reilly, Dundrum, said that he was present when Inspector Convery interrogated Crummey. He first cautioned him, then questioned him, and, finally, read over the answers. He did not suggest what Crummey should say. The sergeant also described the finding of a single-barrelled shot gun in a ditch, and said that Crummey admitted that the gun was his property and that he had had it about six months.

Flynn, in evidence, said that when the Guards drew up the statements they "just wanted to frame it." He did not see Crummey on the night of the raid. The questions which the Inspector asked were concerned with the I.R.A., how many rifles they had, and whether he held any commission in it. The Inspector asked a lot of questions and did not read out the statement afterwards. Witness did not know what he was signing. He was asked if he saw Crummey, and he replied that he did not. The Inspector then said: "That is a damned lie."

Cross-examined by Mr. Black, he said that he spent the night of the raid at the house of people whose names he did not want brought into the matter. That was why he had not brought any witnesses.

Questioned about the Inspector's interrogation, he said that he never said a thing about going into a wood, putting on masks, or carrying a gun by turns.

PUT IN CELL.

Crummey, in evidence, said that he was brought to the barracks, where there were seven detectives and a sergeant. He refused to make a statement, and Detective Brown knocked him to the floor, saying he would make him do so. He was put in a cell, and later signed several sheets of paper without knowing that they were statements. Six months ago he applied to the police for a licence for the shot gun.

Cross-examined by Mr. Black, he said that when the Inspector questioned him he made no complaint about having been assaulted by the detective. On the night of the raid he was with Kennedy in Cashel from 8.30 to 11 p.m. There was not a word of truth in the statement purporting to be his.

Mr. Black—There are several instances in the statement where you are represented as having refused to answer. Is that true?—No.

You never refused to answer any question?—No.

In the second part of the statement you are represented as saying that you want to add something to the statement you made earlier in the day, is that true?—No.

How did you come to sign that second statement?—I signed several pieces of paper. Witness did not see anything written on them, and he might have been signing a blank sheet of paper.

In reply to the President, he said that he could get several witnesses from Cashel, but that he had made no attempt to get any.

The two accused men were found guilty on all counts, except that of being in possession of arms with intent to endanger life.

The case against Kennedy was then taken.

Mr. Black said that the only difference in this case was that Kennedy made a statement denying all participation in the raid, and giving an account of his movements on the night it took place. If necessary, however, he would call Flynn and Crummey as witnesses again Kennedy.

Detective-Sergeant Kelly produced a statement made by Kennedy stating that he had nothing to do with the raid. He had been a member of the I.R.A., the statement went on, but was not at the moment. Later witness conveyed Kennedy to Limerick, and just DRIVER TAKEN FOR A RIDE.

REVOLVER-POINT HOLD UP.

THREE YEARS SENTENCE.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE HANNA.)

THE story of how two men, saying they were cattle smugglers, produced guns and held up a commercial traveller who had been at a Dundalk cinema with a girl, commandeered his motor car and made him drive them across the border, was told yesterday to a jury in the Central Criminal Court, Dublin.

Mr. Martin Maguire, K.C., with whom was Mr. McGivern (instructed by the State Solicitor), appeared for the prosecution.

James Crowe, Keady, County Armagh, and Eugene McKeever, Drumcourath, Ardee, County Louth, both about 35 years of age, were the accused men. They were not legally represented.

They were charged with assaulting Matthew Boylan, commercial traveller, on December 30, 1933, at Dundalk, by imprisoning him for an hour, and with having possession of firearms and ammunition with intent to do him bodily harm. They pleaded guilty to imprisoning Boylan and to having possession of the firearms and ammunition without certificates, but not to intent to do Boylan bodily harm.

Matthew Boylan, commercial traveller, Mill street, Castleblayney, said in evidence that on December 30th he had been in a cinema at Dundalk with a girl. He came out about 8.45 p.m. and went to his car and got into the driving seat. He heard somebody at the back of the car. He thought it was a drunken man and asked him how did he get there. The man replied by telling him to drive to the Newry border. The witness replied that he had no intention of driving to the border, as he did not go that way. The man then produced a revolver and said: "Drive me to the Newry border or I will shoot you." Another man jumped into the seat beside the witness and told him to get a move on. He was directed to drive out of Dundalk in a certain direction, and the man beside him kept urging him to drive faster. The man at the back of the car said: "If you try any tricks I will shoot from behind. I have you covered."

About a mile outside Dundalk, witness continued, they met a Civic Guard, and the man behind said: "Cover that man at once and I will look after this man driving the car." They passed the Guard and some distance further on met a second Guard, when the same thing was said. The man beside him, said witness, had a firearm. McKeever told Boylan, as the car drove along, that he and Crowe had 50 head of cattle at the border that night and were going to get them across at any cost, as they had lost 30 head of cattle, and were not taking any chances that night.

A CAR BEHIND.

The lights of another car shone from behind as the witness's car, which was then running at about 40 m.p.h. McKeever said that if the car continued to follow them at that speed it must be chasing them, and added: "Get ready to fire; we are not going to be caught soft." He went on to say: "We were gangsters in America, and are well used to this kind of work. We don't mean you any harm, provided you carry out our instructions." The car was driven to Cullovill, in Northern Ireland territory, where he was told to turn off the roadway and put out the lamps, lest the R.U.C. should observe them. McKeever then said: "We are going to search you. You might have a revolver." He was searched while Crowe, the man behind in the car, kept him covered all the time with a revolver. He had some silver and coppers. McKeever took it out, and said, "We don't want your money," but afterwards he could only find the coppers. The prisoners left him on the road at about 9.45 p.m. On January 2nd he identified both men at Dundalk Civic Guard Barracks.

Guard Beattie said that when on duty with Guard McManus on the Newry-Dundalk road on January 2 he saw two men answering to the description of the accused men. They followed them for about half a mile, and when they saw them walking in the direction of the border Guard McManus got a bicycle and stopped them. The men were questioned, and Crowe gave his name as Leonard. McKeever said his name was O'Donnell. In reply to further questions, McKeever said he would give no information to the police. The accused were then taken to the barracks, and witness found on McKeever a .28 pistol, 30 bullets and a dagger.

Their luggage was obtained from Castleblaney station, and 100 rounds of ammunition, including some "dum-dum," were found. Neither of the accused made a statement.

DUM-DUM BULLETS.

Sergeant Rahilly, who searched Crowe, said he found a short Webley revolver, strapped in a holster, under his left arm. It contained one "dum-dum" bullet, which would give a terrible wound, and two machine-gun bullets, which had been wrapped with wire to make them fit the revolver. Crowe said his name was Leonard, and that where he came from they did not require a permit to carry a revolver.

This concluded the evidence for the prosecution.

Crowe, speaking from the dock, said, in his defence: "We came over from England on a holiday. The English papers gave a very bad account of the country having trouble, and we thought it necessary to carry guns for our own protection. On the way coming over we spoke to a man on the boat, who asked us to smuggle some cattle for him; we said we would. That is all."

McKeever declined to say anything.

The jury found the prisoners guilty of the possession of firearms with intent to endanger life.

They were sentenced to three years' penal servitude.

Mr. Justice Hanna commended the Civic Guards to the Commissioner for their very smart conduct in the capture of two such blackguards as had been convicted. He said the crime was a very serious one, which carried a maximum penalty of twenty years' penal servitude.

IRISH WILLS.

Miss Lucy Carre, of Camowen, Marlborough road, Glenageary, Co. Dublin, who died on January 18th last, left personal estate in England and the Irish Free State valued at £9,661. She left £100 to Ruanda Mission.

Mr. Louis Anthony, of High street, Killarney, Co. Kerry, shopkeeper, who died on October 31st last, left personal estate in England and the Irish Free State valued at £3,376 9s. 4d. He left £20 to the Hospice for the Dying, Dublin; £20 to the Poor Clares Convent, Dublin, and £50 to the poor of Killarney, to be distributed as his wife may think fit; and on the decease of his wife he left £100 for Masses.

inside the gates of Limerick Prison Kennedy said: "I admit being in the raid, and I will plead guilty."

Kennedy—Have you anything to show to the Court that I made that statement?—No.

Inspector Convery said that Kennedy had no authority to carry firearms.

Timothy Ryan and Crummey and Flynn then repeated evidence already given.

Kennedy, in evidence, said he did not sign any statement. Crummey told him in prison that he had made a statement under the influence of threats, and that Detective Brown struck him.

Kennedy was found guilty of all charges, except that of being in possession of firearms with intent to endanger life.

Kennedy was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment, six months not to be enforced if he enters into recognisances to keep the peace for two years.

Flynn and Crummey were sentenced to nine months' imprisonment, three not to be enforced if they entered into recognisances for twelve months.

DUBLIN CIRCUIT COURT.

£50 DAMAGES FOR CYCLIST.

(BEFORE JUDGE DAVITT.)

A claim for £300 damages was made by Peter J. Brady, 37 Bath avenue, Sandymount, Dublin, against the Dublin Industrial Trust, Ltd., White Swan Laundry, Donore avenue, Dublin, for loss and injury sustained owing to the negligence of defendants in the control and management of a motor car their property.

It was stated in evidence that when crossing the road at Charleville Mall on 19th September last Brady was struck by a motor car. His cycle, he said, was injured beyond repair, and he was injured to such an extent that he had to pay someone to do his work for three weeks.

Defendants denied that their servants or agents were guilty of negligence, and said that the accident was due to the sole negligence of the plaintiff. If defendants were guilty of negligence, the plaintiff was guilty of contributory negligence.

The Judge gave a decree for £50 damages, with £15 special expenses.

Mr. C. F. Casey (instructed by Mr. Gerard O'Brien) appeared for plaintiff, and Mr. Art O'Connor (instructed by Mr. John J. Shiel) for defendants.

SLANDER ACTION DISMISSED.

Laurence Hudson, 24 Convent road, Dun Laoghaire, motor omnibus conductor, sued John J. Rushe, Victoria Arms Hotel, Killiney, for slander, and claimed £50 damages.

Mr. Devlin (instructed by Mr. Halpenny), who appeared for plaintiff, said Hudson was a conductor on a Blue Line 'bus on the 14th November, 1933. The words complained of and attributed to defendant were: "You may keep the two shillings, son, but I want to tell you that you are deliberately keeping it"; and also, "I'll get you yet."

Laurence Hudson described how the defendant, John J. Rushe, boarded the 'bus at about 12.15 p.m. on 14th November. He tendered 2s. 6d. and said, "To Dun Laoghaire." Witness handed him 2s. and then 3d. in coppers and a 3d. ticket. Mr. Rushe said he wanted two tickets, and witness took back the 3d. and handed him another ticket. After travelling about three miles Mr. Rushe said: "What about that 2s.?" Witness told him he had given him 2s., and asked him to look in his pockets. He also turned out the bag, counted the money and checked it with the way-bill. Both corresponded. When Rushe was getting out of the 'bus he said "Listen, son, you are not fooling me. You are deliberately holding on to the money. You may keep it." Witness called a policeman and told him what happened. On the return journey Rushe got into the 'bus again, and said: "Well, did you find out your mistake?" and "Very well, you can go through with it. You will lose your job and all you have."

Witness would be satisfied if defendant apologised and withdrew the allegation. There were five other people in the 'bus at the time.

Robert Lawlor, driver of the 'bus, said he heard the defendant say to Hudson: "You are deliberately keeping it, and you can keep the damn thing."

Ernest Knapp stated that he heard talk about 2s., and heard Rushe say: "You can keep the 2s., but you will hear more about it."

John J. Rushe, the defendant, stated that on the date in question he asked for two tickets for Dun Laoghaire and tendered half a crown. The conductor gave him one ticket and threepence change, and witness then remarked, "I asked for two tickets," and handed back the threepence. Witness asked for 2s. change, and the conductor said he had already given it to him. Witness did not accuse plaintiff of stealing the money.

A man who accompanied Rushe on the 'bus deposed to seeing the half-crown tendered, but said he did not see the 2s. change given. There was an argument about the money, but there was no accusation of theft.

Judge Davitt said that the case was one which should never have come into Court, and he dismissed it, without costs.

Mr. R. Brereton Barry (instructed by Mr. P. Kenny) appeared for the defence.

MOTOR COLLISION IN KILDARE.

(BEFORE JUDGE SHANNON.)

Geo. Henderson, Ardmore, Athy, County Kildare, sued McMullan Bros., 28 Upper O'Connell street, Dublin, for £75 damages sustained as a result of a collision between defendants' lorry and plaintiff's motor car on the Grangemullen road, near Athy, on January 18, 1933.

Mr. Ernest Wood (instructed by Messrs. E. F. Collins and Sons) appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Jas. Cauley (instructed by Messrs. O'Hanlon and Robinson) for the defendants.

After evidence the plaintiff agreed to accept the sum of £20, which had been lodged in Court. Judge Shannon ruled accordingly.

TONE AND COMMENT

DUBLIN QUIET.

RISE IN TRAM ORD.

It cannot be said that the opening of the new account brought any great accession of business to Dublin Stock market. The tone yesterday was fairly steady, but there was not sufficient business in any department to test prices.

Free State Funds were firm, but Land Bonds lost 7s. 6d. There was a dealing in the old Compensation Stock at par and Agricultural Credit Bonds (second series) repeated 105. The War Loan was a small fraction lower.

Dublin Corporation Stocks were supported at last prices.

Among Rails, Great Northern Ordinary lost 3 points at six and Great Southern Guaranteed rose 15s. All the Debenture Stocks, except Great Northern, were marked ex the dividend for the current half-year. Dublin Tram Ordinary rose 5s. to 115s.

Bank shares, now free of dividend, were firm, with Nationals ninepence better.

Guinness units were an active market, but closed threepence lower at 110s. 3d. B. and I. Pref. was unchanged. Alliance Gas varied the usual thirty-second and Johnston Mooney Ordinary rose 1s. 9d. to 110s.

The Industrial market showed very little sign of recovery. Imperial Tobacco was exceptionally firm and Courtaulds moved up threepence, but all the changes in Coats, Dunlops, Chemicals, Unilevers, Vickers, and Lever 7 per cent. Preferences were adverse.

LONDON FIRM.

BRITISH RAILS STRONG.

The new account in the London Stock Market opened cheerfully, and a good volume of buying orders was reported, though it was in only a few directions that markets assumed a really active appearance. British Rails provided an especially firm feature, and under the influence of strong buying quotations appreciated sharply, closing at the best levels of the day and showing strong advances. Gold shares continued in active request. The demand for "Kaffirs" was again of a selective character, with Lace Props., East Rands, Cons. and Gold Fields especially favoured. The sharp rise induced a certain amount of profit-taking and the closing prices were consequently well below the best, though still showing some appreciable improvements on the week-end levels. West African Mines and Copper descriptions also disclosed a firm appearance. Rather wider attention was directed to the Industrial department and the general trend of values favoured holders, but Manbre Gartons and a number of the Motor issues returned reduced rates.

There was not a great deal going on among British Funds, but a firm tone prevailed and quotations were raised fractionally all round. Trading among Foreign Government stocks also was on a quiet scale and prices moved irregularly. German Bonds were sold on a moderate scale, and the 7 per cent. dropped 2 points to 63, while the 5½ per cent. closed ½ lower to 43½.

British Rails, as mentioned above, came into active request and quotations were not slow to respond. Southerns led the way, the Pref. Ord. finishing 1¾ points harder at 77¼, while the Def. Ord. put on a point to 25¼. Midland Ord. went ⅝ higher to 23⅞ and Great Western Ord. closed ¾ up to 52¾, with North-Easterns showing fractional advances. Colonial and Foreign Rails attracted little attention and remained at the week-end levels, but Americans were marked forward all round. Union Pacific led with a gain of 6 points.

THE INDUSTRIAL MARKET.

BOOTS DRUG SUPPORTED.

Although a fair amount of fresh support was witnessed when new account dealings started in the Industrial market yesterday, trading remained of small dimensions. Most of the leading home issues came in for renewed attention, among which Distillers were revived in anticipation of the forthcoming final dividend announcement.

The trans-Atlantic counters responded to the week-end advices from Wall street, but prices reacted from the best in the late dealings. "Emmies" came in for renewed attention and finished 7½d. up on the day at 29s. 6d.

Cables and Wireless Stocks remained out of favour, the Pref. being marked down to the extent of a point at 64½. Canadian Marconi recovered 9d. to 9s. 9d. Apart from Fairey Aviation, which hardened to 31s., Aviation and kindred descriptions were inclined to dulness. Rolls-Royce receded 1s. and De Haviland declined 9d.

In the Motor group Austins continued to display firmness, a steady demand again being experienced, which raised the price a further 1/16 to 5 1/16. Standards rose 6d. to 64s. 3d., and Fords hardened to 32s. 3d. On the other hand, Thomas Tillings gave way 1/16 to 4 11/16, and Guy Motors fell 6d. to 2s. 6d.

Breweries did not move to any material extent, and changes on balance made a rather mixed showing. Meux and Barclays received further support, but Guinness, Taylor, Walker and Watney Detd. closed easier.

Interest in the Alcohol section centred around Distillers, which, on dividend hopes, rose to 89s. 6d. at one time, being eventually 1s. up on the day at 89s. 3d.

The leading Tobacco shares had a firmer appearance. "Imps" strengthened 1s. to 122s. 6d., and Carreras "A" closed buyers at around 7½, and the "B" shares at 19s. 6d. "Bats" held around 5¾.

Although Textile prices were generally firm, business was hardly sufficient to test quotations, and as a consequence changes showed no decided trend.

Among Rayon issues, American Celanese were prominent, with a further advance, though they closed below the best at 5¼, after 5 5/16. The British Celanese issues also made a good rally from their recent dulness, the Ord. strengthening 1s. to 11s. 6d., and the Second Pref. 9d. to 11s. 3d. Courtaulds strengthened a few pence.

Although business was rather selective in the Miscellaneous group, the general tone was firm. Among the leading counters, Dunlops rallied to 45s. 7½d. Chemicals hardened to 34s. 6d., and Turner and Newall to 46s. 9d. Support was also noticeable for United Molasses, though they finished under the best at 18s. 9d., after 19s. 1½d.

Boots Drug were a bright spot; after opening at 41s. 6d. ex div. and rights, they responded to a steady demand, advancing to 43s.

OIL SHARES FIRM.

The new account in Oil shares commenced in quite satisfactory style, there being a steady turnover in the leaders, while the market as a whole displayed firmness.

Continental business remained small, but French operators came in buyers of Internationals at the start, and the demand from the centre became more persistent in the afternoon, while Amsterdam was a buyer of Royal Dutch.

It was noticeable that where demand existed the market was found to be in poor supply. Consequently prices were not slow to respond, advances being general at the close.

RUBBER SHARES IRREGULAR.

There was not a great deal of interest passing in the Rubber Share market yesterday, and in the absence of buyers quotations disclosed an easier trend in a number of instances. Bright spots were not altogether lacking, however, and here and there values were raised materially, so that the list of price movements returned at the close made an irregular showing. In the raw material market towards the close a slightly firmer tone developed, and prices were above the lowest. Spot and June sold 6 7/16d., 6 5/16d. and 6⅜d. per pound, with July to September at 6 7/16d., 6 5/16d. and 6½d. per pound, while October to December was quoted 6⅜d., 6 7/16d. and 6⅝d. per pound. As anticipated, London stocks of the raw material were raised by some 805 tons on the week to 43,308 tons, which compares with 42,723 tons a year ago. Liverpool stocks are now 54,295 tons, against 58,560 tons a year ago, and they show an expansion on the week of 192 tons.

GOLD PROFITS FOR MAY.

Ariston Gold Mines (1929).—Profit, £10,238.

LONDON MINING MARKET FIRM.

COPPERS COME INTO PROMINENCE.

With the arrangements in connection with the coming settlement satisfactorily concluded, the Mining market started the week well. There was a fair accumulation of public orders, and these were supplemented by a good professional demand for Gold shares, based, no doubt, on the expectation of a further rise in the price of the metal.

Notwithstanding these favourable considerations, the Kaffir department presented a somewhat undecided appearance. The steady improvement in values has, no doubt, induced a good deal of profit-taking and the selling has checked fresh demand to some extent, so that movements on the day were generally unimportant.

A better tendency developed in the Rhodesian department and Chartered were again being quietly bought and went ahead. One or two of the Gold shares were also better, but chief interest centred on the Copper issues, which suddenly came into prominence on the brighter outlook for the metal and prices rose smartly. Closing prices:—

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

Mexican Eagle Oil Co.'s Wages.

The arbitration decision of the President of the Republic in connection with the strike has been received. The most important features of the decision are:—Payment for Sundays, a 46½-hour week, instead of a 48-hour week, as previously; pensions at the age of 55 to workmen having at least 25 years' service with the company, vacations of six to eighteen days per annum, dependent upon the period of service with the company. In regard to wages, the President has conceded about half of the men's demands. It is stated that these concessions to the men will be included in a modification of the Federal Labour law at the end of this year, and thus be made applicable to all petroleum companies operating in Mexico. More complete details, together with an estimate of the cost to the company of these provisions, will be given in the annual report. Work was resumed on Friday last at Minatitlan Refinery and in the fields without incident.

West Witwatersrand Areas.

A circular to shareholders of West Witwatersrand Areas states that a new company was registered under the company laws of the Union of South Africa on the 5th inst, under the name of Venterspost Gold Mining Company, Ltd., with a nominal capital of £2,500,000 in 5,000,000 shares of the nominal value of 10s. each. This company will transfer to the Venterspost Gold Mining Company, Ltd., the mineral rights held by it on the farms Venterspost No. 27 and Gemsbokfontein No. 1, district of Krugersdorp, and application has been made for mynpachts' and discoverers' rights in respect thereof. In consideration of and in payment for such mineral rights, this company is to receive from the Venterspost Gold Mining Company, Ltd, an amount of £400,000, which will be utilised in subscribing at par for 800,000 shares of the nominal value of 10s. each in that company. In order to provide ample funds for the early commencement of active shaft sinking and development work, the initial working capital to be provided is £1,000,000. The initial issued capital of the Venterspost Gold Mining Company, Ltd., will therefore be £1,400,000 in 2,800,000 shares of 10s. each, thus leaving 2,200,000 shares in reserve. The 2,000,000 shares to provide the initial working capital will be offered to shareholders in West Witwatersrand Areas, Ltd., who are registered on June 30, 1934, in the proportion of two shares in the Venterspost Gold Mining Company, Ltd., for each share held in this company. The subscription of the whole of the 2,000,000 shares has been guaranteed by New Consolidated Gold Fields, Ltd., for a cash commission of 2½ per cent.

Rand Gold May Output.

The output of gold from the mines of the Witwatersrand and outside districts during May was 898,418 fine ounces, and the total number of natives employed by the Witwatersrand Native Labour Association 256,060 at the end of May, of which 243,579 were employed in the gold mines. The gold output of 898,418 ounces compares with 865,822 ounces in April and 944,604 ounces in May, 1933.

Rubber.

Messrs. Rolls and Son comment:—"A distinctly improved tone has crept into the market. With the improved labour outlook in America, and the feeling that, after all, there was a restriction scheme somewhere in the background, operators began to take a little more interest at the lower price levels, and quite a fair inquiry was evident on behalf of speculators, which was followed on by American purchases in this market, against, what we should imagine to be, a fairly large short account. These orders, coming in to a market which had undoubtedly a "sold-out" appearance, caused a rapid turn round in prices and sentiment, prices advancing fully ⅛d. from the recent low levels. We have previously expressed the opinion that we see no reason for pessimism, and take this opportunity of repeating our confidence in the market. We remain unconvinced that business affairs in America are as bad as some would have us believe. Labour troubles seem to be settled there with extraordinary rapidity, and the falling off in trade which has been so freely prophesied still fails to make itself evident. Steel output continues to expand, and from private advices received from America we understand that rubber consumption for May may exceed 43,000 tons, a figure which, if confirmed, can only be regarded as very favourable for this season of the year. We are of the opinion that the major upward movement in commodities may emanate from that country, in spite of the present prevailing uncertainties."

Stock Exchanges Ten-year Record.

Messrs. F. C. Mathieson and Sons, 16 Copthall avenue, London, E.C. 2, have just issued their "Stock Exchanges (London and Provincial) Ten-year Record" (20s.). This is the 25th issue of a work which is not only the largest, but the most valuable of its kind. It contains the highest and lowest prices and the dividends (amounts actually paid and when) of a voluminous list of companies, shown in an index, extending over 31 closely printed pages. The record is from 1924 to 1933 inclusive. A feature of the index which is much appreciated is the statement of the particular industry in which companies are engaged to which the title gives no clue. Even Guinness (Arthur, Son and Co.) are described as "brewers." We observe that the Free State list is kept well up to date.

The feature of the foreign exchange market yesterday was a sharp reaction in the European gold currencies in the late dealings, following marked strength in the earlier part of the day. The trend of the market was again unfavourable to sterling in view of a renewed demand of a commercial character for both the dollar and the franc.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

A. Boake, Roberts and Co.—Profit for year £89,176, £18,634 more than for 1932-33. Final Ordinary dividend of 2 per cent., making, with interims, total of 10 per cent., tax free.

British and Dominions Film Corporation.—Interim dividend of 4 per cent., actual, less tax. (Nil.)

Bechuanaland Exploration.—The accounts for the year ended March 31 last show a net profit, after providing for general expenses, directors' fees, and £5,078 for depreciation, of £14,591, and £1,859 was brought in. The directors have decided to maintain the dividend for the year at 5 per cent. For the previous twelve months the net profit, after providing £10,105 for development and depreciation, was £19,224 and £4,000 was reserved for taxation.

Barnagore Jute.—Net profit of £40,978, against a loss of £8,550 in 1932-33. Dividend for year of 10 per cent. on Ordinary (5 per cent.). Forward, £14,077.

Bangrin Tin Dredging.—Net profit for 1933 at £30,368, compared with £1,869 in 1932. After deducting the interim payment of 10 per cent. made in October last, the carry forward is slightly higher at £22,135. No dividend was paid for 1932.

British Borneo Timber.—Dividend of 3 per cent., against 3½ per cent.

Compressed Paper Packing.—Progress report states that original site for factory at Rotherhithe was found to be unsatisfactory. It was finally decided to purchase premises at West Drayton. Lease of property is for seventy years. Factory has been modernised. There was delay in making delivery of eight machines originally ordered from German manufacturers. Plant now installed is virtually in working order. Satisfactory paper at reasonable price has been obtained, and costs of production up to present are within estimates shown in prospectus. Patent rights have been sold in Irish Free State for cash consideration and royalty on output, and in Australia and New Zealand for allotment of percentage of shares in new companies to be formed, and royalty on output. Negotiations are proceeding for disposal of rights for Canada and South Africa, and it is hoped that arrangements will shortly be made in respect of Indian patents. Directors are convinced that packings will be found efficient, and it is only a question of time before they will get sufficient orders to keep factory in full production. (Company was registered in 1933.)

Clyde Paper.—The final dividend in respect of the year ending June 30, 1934, covering the half-year to June 30, 1934, will be paid on July 2, 1934, on the 7½ p.c. Cumulative Preference shares.

Eastern Plantations Finance.—Dividend of 1½ per cent., less tax. (Last year nil.)

After expenses, tax provision, and Debenture service, net profit is up from £342,795 to £402,839, and, as already announced, the Ordinary dividend is repeated at 7 per cent., less tax, while the reserve allocation is repeated at £15,000. The carry-forward is then increased from £24,997 to £41,855. During the year the authorised capital was increased to £7,000,000 by the creation of a further 1,000,000 Ordinary £1 shares, and 400,000 Ordinary shares were issued to shareholders.

Electric Furnace.—Final dividend of 4½ per cent. on Ordinary, making 7 per cent. (Last year nil.)

European General Re-insurance.—Net credit balance £81,444 (last year £82,016). Losses realised on investments and depreciation fully covered by contingent fund. Dividend of 15 per cent., free of British tax (same).

Metal Traders.—The directors have decided to offer to shareholders one £1 share for every two held at £2 per share. Profit for year ended March 31, 1934, after tax, amounted to £58,176. A dividend of 12½ per cent. and a bonus of 5 per cent., both less tax, are recommended, and after placing £15,000 to reserve, a balance of £14,982 remains to be added to the amount brought in. In 1932-33 net profit was £45,818, and the dividend 12½ per cent.

Northampton Brewery.—Dividend on Ordinary of 5 per cent. (same).

Partridge Jones.—In their report for the fifteen months to 31st March the directors of Partridge Jones and John Paton, owners of collieries, show a profit of £54,710. The balance brought forward, after writing off £5,464 from the loss incurred on realisation of the stock in the South Wales Power Company was £8,358, making available £63,068. The directors recommend to write off the balance of the loss incurred on the realisation of the stock in the South Wales Power Company, £24,000; a dividend on the £2,146,188 Ordinary capital of 1¼ per cent., free of income tax, £28,827; and to carry forward £12,240. For the year 1932 there was a loss of £11,881, and for 1931 a loss of £32,631. No dividend has been paid since 2½ per cent. was distributed for 1930 on the capital of £2,146,188.

This compares with £10,726 in 1932. Final dividend of 5 per cent., making 55 per cent. for the year, compared with 10 per cent. in 1932. The carry forward is then raised from £7,634 to £8,112. Additionally an interim of 10 per cent., less tax, has been declared in respect of 1934, payable on June 21.

Sons of Gwalia.—The 1933 report states that 43,033 fine ounces of gold were recovered, which realised £277,663, compared with 43,568 ozs. and £260,224, including gold bonus, in 1932. After expenses, and before a depreciation charge of £7,394, profit amounted to £114,215, compared with the 1932-33 level of £101,118. The sum of £20,000 is transferred to tax reserve, and the directors recommend a final dividend of 10 per cent., making 50 per cent. for 1933, compared with 15 per cent. in 1932. The carry-forward is then increased from £10,580 to £14,526.

Straits Plantations.—Payment for year of 4 per cent., less tax, against 6 per cent. for 1932-33.

Seymour Mead and Co. (Manchester).—Loss, £5,854 (against £11,921). Debit of £6,441 is offset by income tax reserve written back, amounting to £7,300, leaving credit balance forward, £856. No Ordinary dividend. (Same.)

Virol.—Accounts for year to March 31, 1934, after providing for all expenses and loss due to alteration in sizes and prices, and after writing off all credits to trade for stocks on market, show gross trading profit of £114,84[illegible] compared with £132,569 for previous year. After transferring £20,000 from reserve towards loss incurred on year owing to these exceptional charges, there is, with amount brought forward, available total of £57,518. Directors now recommend payment of 5 per cent. on Ordinary, making 10 per cent. (same), and payment of interim of 5 per cent. on Ordinary "A" on account of year ending March 31, 1935.

LONDON "STREET" MARKET.

Business was very quiet after hours last evening, and dealings did not go on very long. Americans opened firm, but later reacted on uncertain New York cables. Nickels finished at 26⅛, and Tractions at 9 7/16. Radio eased to 7 5/16 and Steels were 41 after 41¾. American Celanese changed hands up to 5 5/16, but closed at 5¼. Woolworth hardened to 98s., but Distillers were a shade off at 89s. 3d.

A little business among Mining shares did not alter prices to any marked extent.

IRISHMAN'S DIARY.

John O'Donovan : Dutch Visitors : Theatrical Cricket. College Auditors.

College Auditors.

During the past few weeks the various societies in Trinity College have been engaged in electing officers for the next academic year. Most of these elections are carried out in miniature parliamentary style, the different electorates receiving ballot papers, which must be marked and returned to the officials in charge of the ballot before a specified date. This year is remarkable for the fact that the two major College societies—the College Historical Society and the University Philosophical Society—have elected to their highest offices men who have also distinguished athletic careers. Mr. J. W. Wellwood, the new Auditor of the Historical Society, was until recently a prominent member of the University Rugby Football Club, and played on the first XV. for several seasons. Mr. Wellwood is a Scholar in Modern History. Mr. G. F. Mitchell, the newly-elected President of the University Philosophical Society, is a Scholar in Natural Science, and is also a member of the Swimming Club. He plays "goalie" on the University water-polo team, and represented Trinity in the British Universities' Swimming Championships held in Manchester last month. This unusual blend of scholastic and athletic attainments in the persons of these two important College figures should attract many new members to the two societies.

Theatrical Cricket.

A sporting event of unique interest will take place at the ground of the Leinster Cricket Club, Rathmines, next Sunday, when a cricket match will be played between an eleven of the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company and a team of Dublin theatrical celebrities who have styled themselves "The Motleyans."

The match will serve to show that the team work of the D'Oyly Carte Company exists in other spheres besides the operas. They have a very active sports club which helps to make life on tour attractive, contests in various games being arranged almost everywhere they go. The cricket match here is being taken very seriously, and the team is practising assiduously. The eleven which will take the field will be chosen from—Martyn Green (captain), Charles Goulding, John Dean, Richard Walker, William Summer, Radley Flynn, Brogden Millard, Edward Gamage, David Thomas, Winston Dyson, Richard Dunn, Scott Fraser, with Isidore Godfrey as umpire and Alan Ward as scorer.

"The Motleyans" are also going through hard practice, and are very keen to win the match. Drawn from various theatrical sources, the team will be selected from—George Bonass (President, Leinster Cricket Union) (captain), Barry Fitzgerald, Denis Johnston, Lal Cranfield, Edward Lexy, P. J. Carolan, Coleman Conroy, Robert Hennessy, N. H. Lambert, N. O'C. Redmond, Lionel A. Cranfield, P. Murphy, W. P. Hone.

Apart from the cricket, arrangements are being made to make the day enjoyable socially, as a very large gathering of visitors is expected. Afternoon tea will be served on the ground at a nominal charge, and as this is being looked after by the Misses Muriel Dickson, Dorothy Gill, Eileen Moody, Sheelah Richards, Maisie Cranfield, Coralie Carmichael, Ria Mooney and Gerty Cranfield, there ought to be no lack of visitors.

Dutch Visitors.

Mrs. Wall, of show yard jumping fame, who lives at Clonsilla, brought a party of Dutch visitors to Leopardstown on Saturday. Mrs. Wall is, I believe, of Dutch origin; but we have become so accustomed to watching her at the shows for so long that we now look upon her as Irish. Her friends from Holland are here buying horses, and have already secured a number of point-to-point animals and riding horses suitable for show yard jumping in Holland; for though Germany, their next-door neighbour, has horses for sale, they find it necessary to come to Ireland for the raw material just the same. I noticed that Juffrouw Jurgens, one of the ladies of the party, was intensely interested in the horses in the saddling ring at Leopardstown before the fifth race. The Jurgens come from Southern Holland.

Devil's Glen.

A correspondent writes:—"I read your interesting article about the Devil's Glen some days ago. About 30 years ago I heard a tourist recounting an experience that happened to her in the Devil's Glen which leads me to wonder if this beautiful spot was always open to the public. The lady in question and her party were admiring their surroundings when they were pounced on by an irate and fiery individual, who claimed to be the owner. He accused them of being trespassers. His language was sulphuric. The lady smilingly replied: 'We came to see the Devil's Glen, but we never expected to meet the Devil himself.' This so tickled the old warrior that he invited the whole party to tea and gave them free admission to come and go whenever they wished.

"Exactly 53 years ago I was living in a house in the County Wicklow about seven miles from the Devil's Glen. An ash tree on the lawn had been cut down, and it was desired to have it cut into planks. It was taken to a saw mill in the Devil's Glen, and I went with the carter. While the log was being cut I wandered about the place. I remember a beautiful little lake in which the trout were rising freely. I wonder if the lake and saw mill are still there. As I say, it is 53 years ago, and I have never been there since."

Meteors in June.

June, with its brief nights, is not a very remarkable month for meteor showers; yet occasionally meteors—and some very brilliant ones, too—are seen in unwonted numbers for the season. The chief radiant is situated in Quadrans, or, more properly speaking, Boötes, and other centres are sometimes found active in Ursa Major and Draco. The most suitable time for making observations is in the hour preceding and in that following midnight respectively. On the night of the 10th, or rather on the 11th, there is a considerable degree of meteoric intensity between 2.30 and 4 a.m.; the morning of the 13th, during the hour following midnight, has another maximum. On the following night, that of the 13th, there occurs the most important meteoric display of the month under very favourable conditions for observation, a large double maximum falling about 11.30, or, perhaps, a little earlier, so that meteors should be abundant in the hour or two before midnight. The next most noteworthy event is on the 19th, between 1 and 2.30 a.m., and there is another shower on the night of the 25th and early morning of the 26th, with secondary maxima on the following night. The 28th is marked by a rather early maximum about 9 p.m., while another maximum falls on the morning of the 30th too late for direct observation.

John O'Donovan.

That John O'Donovan, the great Celtic scholar and editor of the "Annals of the Four Masters," was very versatile is well known; but until a friend showed me some lines of his I had not thought of him as having a gift for clever verse. His rhymes, as he said himself, were doggerel, but they were by no means lacking in quality or humour. Referring once to the Ards of County Down and the Savage family so long associated with that district, O'Donovan recalled the quatrain on the Ards, written—probably at Government instigation—by the celebrated Gaelic poet, Angus Ruadh O Dalaigh. "Angus of the Satires" as he was called, because he had the bitterest tongue in Elizabethan Ireland. Freely translated, this quatrain runs: "The Ards of Ulster, scarce and starving, a country without happiness, without religion; where Savage, the foreign hangman, scrapes off the limpets with his knife." Remarking that "the inhabitants seem much more comfortable now," O'Donovan made this paraphrase for a colleague:—

> "Next, in my course, I came to Ards, high ground,
> Where I nor pleasure nor religion found,
> Here dearth and hunger hold their ghastly reign,
> And all are savage, brutal and profane.
> The savage chief is savage, too, by name,
> A foreign rascal never known to fame
> By feat of arms, or loftiness of soul! !
> This dastard hath nor bread nor herds nor flocks,
> But lives by scraping limpets off the rocks! !"

QUIDNUNC.

UNDER ARCTIC ICE.

SUBMARINE PLAN OF SIR H. WILKINS.

Sir Hubert Wilkins, the explorer, who arrived at Plymouth from New York yesterday, is having a submarine built at Barrow-in-Furness, for an expedition to the Arctic region and a voyage under the ice.

"I am visiting Barrow now," he said. "The plans are complete, but the order for the submarine has not yet been placed. Money for the expedition has been raised in America. I had hoped to make the expedition this year, but I have had to postpone it, because I had promised to rejoin Mr. Lincoln Ellsworth in September to carry out a flight in the Antarctic."

On the Arctic submarine trip Sir Hubert Wilkins hopes next year to start from England for Spitzbergen. Thence he proposes to cross the Arctic regions to the Behring Straits, a distance of about two thousand miles, some fifteen hundred of which may have to be done under ice.

"Lady Wilkins," Sir Hubert said, "is very enthusiastic about the expedition, and hopes to accompany me, but nothing has been definitely settled. She will be greatly disappointed if she is not allowed to go, and, personally, I see no reason why she should not take part in the expedition."

Mr. Ellsworth's proposed flight in the Antarctic will cover 2,700 miles, of which 1,500 are unexplored, to within 400 miles of the South Pole.

COUNTY WICKLOW WEDDING.

Silcock and Mrs. Silcock, Edgeware, London, and Miss Olive May Bourne, daughter of Mr. J. J. Bourne and Mrs. Bourne, Foultown, Tinahely, Co. Wicklow, which took place at Kilcommon Church, Tinahely.

"A WORLD WITHOUT MONEY."

A ROTARIAN'S OUTLOOK.

Mr. James Henry Webb, F.R.I.A.I., entertained his fellow-members of the Dublin Rotary Club yesterday with an essay on "A Moneyless World."

Mr. P. T. Montford, President of the Club, presided.

Mr. Webb, in the course of his paper, said that up to the war distribution was performed by means of "trade" in a slipshod way. There was some kind of employment for most employables, and people were expected to work to live, unless they owned something by means of which they lived. That, he said, had come to an end. The world was swamped with unemployed, and trade bolstered up by tariffs and absurd fictitious values. How long such a situation could last was problematical. Had those listening to him ever thought what would happen if trade and commerce were abolished, and people gave up paying for things—got rid of the basic idea that one must work to live? He wanted them to consider with him a world without money, or barter, or poverty, or social injustice, or crime against property. It was said that it was impossible to conceive of a world without money. Exactly the same thing was said about slavery. He suggested that money, which they all thought so vital, so fundamental, so essential to existence, and which they all found so intense a reality, was, in fact, a pure fiction, and no more essential to civilisation than was slavery.

"I suggest to you," said Mr. Webb, "that the organisation of plant and material and personnel was to the experienced man and to the technician child's play as compared with the intricacies of finance. Organised work, whether productive, manufacturing or distributive, could obviously not be carried on if individuals did not honour a definite undertaking as to hours per day, periods of service and loyalty to the leader. I anticipate little difficulty in this connection, knowing well that it is from congenial occupation that man gets the greatest satisfaction out of life. Every mortal thing free! Food, clothing, fuel, houses, furniture, books, pictures, travel, study, pleasures—everything, and to everyone, whether he or she works or not, whether he or she deserves it or not. I admit that the prospect at first sight seems somewhat dazzling and desperately revolutionary; but, materially speaking, at any rate, there is nothing absurd about it."

The Rev. Dr. Hanna said that the club was indebted to Mr. Webb for one of the freshest and most thought-producing papers they had heard for a long time, whether they agreed with it or not.

Mr. F. Summerfield, hon. secretary, said that the paper contained many provocative ideas, which he would like some member of the club to consider and reply to at a future meeting.

IF WAR BROKE OUT.

POSITION OF THE CIVIL POPULATION.

The Director of Medical Services, Free State Department of Defence, has received a report on the work of the Permanent Committee of the International Congress of Military Medicine and Pharmacy, together with a summary of proposals for the protection of the people in case of combat.

The Belgian Government has invited all foreign Governments to send delegates to the 4th session of the International Documentation Bureau of Military Medicine which will be held in Liege from 27th to 30th June, 1934.

Up to the present the object of these sessions was primarily the study of medico-military technical questions.

This year the session, presided over by Monsieur Deveze, Belgian Minister of National Defence, will have a character of the highest importance.

During the course of the session Messrs. de la Pradelle, Professor in the Faculty of Law of Paris, and Voncken, Director of the International Documentation Bureau, will report on suggested articles of agreement for the protection of non-combatants in case of war.

Already more than twenty different countries have accepted the invitation sent by the Belgian Government by delegating either diplomats, jurists, officers or military doctors.

At a time when the results of the Disarmament Conference appear to be negative and disappointing, the only remaining hope of succeeding in obtaining security for the people must be sought in the precise codification of the laws of war. This question will be raised by M. de la Pradelle in his paper entitled: "If war broke out, what would be its laws?"

A FILM OF THE WEEK.

"GALLANT LADY" AT THE METROPOLE.

Admittedly, the ways of the American film-child are a little hard to bear at times, and more than once we have heard the tale of the mother who is compelled, through force of circumstances, to let her baby be brought up by alien hands. At the same time, "Gallant Lady" is quite worth seeing at the Metropole; Dickie Moore does not obtrude more than is strictly necessary, and the story does not matter very much in any case.

Ann Harding is the chief attraction. She has a delightfully natural style that can lend conviction to the most unconvincing situations, and it is always pleasant to watch her. Possibly her best performance so far is to be found in this picture, where even the need for being a grief-stricken mother is allowed to damp her vivacity only for a little while. Clive Brook is another actor who can move through an impossible plot with such urbanity that we do not realise its weak spots until afterwards. He is even better than usual in this film, and Janet Beecher is almost as good in her own small part.

"Gallant Lady" is one of those films that can be pigeon-holed under the label, "Emotional Appeal," but that need not be a deterrent. The story is well put together, the dialogue is consistently good, and the acting above the average.

THE ABBEY THEATRE.

Two old favourites are being produced at the Abbey Theatre, both being old enough to need no comment here. In Lady Gregory's comedy, "The Rising of the Moon," the parts are taken by F. J. McCormick, Arthur Shields, Denis O'Dea and Michael J. Dolan. Edward McNulty's farce, "The Lord Mayor," is also being produced, and the cast includes Barry Fitzgerald, Maureen Delany, Shelah Richards and Michael J. Dolan. From Thursday onwards the company is producing "The Glorious Uncertainty," a comedy by Brinsley Macnamara.

THE QUEEN'S THEATRE.

Described as "a music, song, dance and patter mix-up," "Sky High," Mr. Lorcan Bourke's stage presentation at the Queen's Theatre this week, offers excellent entertainment. The featured artist of an admirable variety cast, Claree Dale, the versatile Tyrolean tenor, sings a number of songs in a light, tuneful voice. Supporting him are Eddie and Teddy Brown, who present a comedy equilibristic act; Allan and Gordon, instrumentalists and dancers, and the Pryces, a pair of really amusing comedians. Artistic dances are performed by the Queen's Moonbeams, and Alex C. Fryer's band plays excerpts from "New Moon." On the screen, the main picture is "One Year Later," a story of happy dreams and tragic realities, with Mary Brian, Donald Dillaway, and Russell Hopton in the leading parts.

OLYMPIA THEATRE.

Some owners of hard hats and watches had an anxious time when they saw their property being "destroyed" by Cingalee, "the silent man of mystery," in his clever conjuring performances at the Olympia Theatre, Dublin, last night. Another artist whose "turn" was much enjoyed was Scott Saunders, a Scottish character comedian, whose studies are admirable, and who does not hesitate to make a joke at the expense of his fellow-countrymen. Paddy Drew is a humorous cartoonist, whose work caused plenty of laughter. John F. West, with three tuneful numbers, sustains his high reputation as a baritone. Wholesome knockabout fun and good balancing are provided by Ringle and Renee in "Fun in a Restaurant." Some good dancing is performed by the Galliard Trio, while pleasing displays also are given by Stan Annison and Evelyn Major, and Janet and Ivy. The orchestra, under Mr. John Moody, played some popular selections.

CIVIL SERVICE VACANCIES.

The Civil Service Commissioners announce the holding of an examination in October to fill five vacancies as Learner in the Galway Post Office. There are three places for boys and two for girls. Candidates to be eligible must be between 15 and 17 years of age, and, in addition, (1) have been reared in the Fior-Ghaeltacht, (2) have received their primary education through Irish, and (3) come from households in which Irish is the language in ordinary use.

The examination papers will be suited to Standard VII. in national schools in the Ghaeltacht. Entries close on September 8.

Tall Ship Reaches Her Port.

BECALMED FOR DAYS IN THE TROPICS.

By a Special Correspondent.

> I must go down to the seas again, to the lovely sea and the sky,
> And all I ask is a tall ship and a star to steer her by,
> And the wheel's kick and the wind's song and the white sails shakin',
> And a grey mist on the sea's face, and a grey dawn breaking.
> —Sea Fever (John Masefield).

Shepherded by two fussy little tugs the "tall ship" of Masefield's poem slowly edged her way round the point of the North Wall and into the Alexandra Basin of the Port of Dublin yesterday afternoon—more than a hundred days after she had set sail from Wallaroo, South Australia, laden with a cargo of grain.

She is the Finnish four-masted barque Passat, and the second ship to reach port in the annual grain race. As a matter of fact, she will probably be the winner of the event, always watched with keen interest among sailormen (I do not mean the mechanics you find on steamers nowadays), because the first boat home, the Abraham Rydberg, sailed via the Cape of Good Hope instead of the generally accepted race route—around Cape Horn.

Standing below her on the quayside and listening to orders shouted in Finnish—a language which I do not understand—I could imagine a "bucko" mate of the approved story-book type pacing the deck, a belaying pin in his hand, as he shouted his orders (with a hearty curse). But I was very wrong, for the young man who was shouting the orders suddenly came into my view on the edge of the quarter deck. He was no "bucko" mate and carried no belaying pin. "Mr. Mate" wore a suit of perfectly clean white ducks and was issuing his orders to a crew, which, in defiance of all the storybook traditions, did not look a bit mutinous. Actually they were all looking particularly cheerful, and there were no scarred faces to tell of what might have happened when the Passat was becalmed in the tropics.

I followed the Customs officers on to the deck, and within a few minutes, when the apprentice boys had finished "laying to" at the capstan, I learned that the Passat is very unlike the sailing ships of long ago. For a start, she is not a "wooden wall," but has a hull and masts of steel.

A YOUNG CREW.

Probably the most important thing, from the crew's point of view, is that she is what sailors call a "happy ship." That is to say, captain and crew get along well together, and that means a great deal when thirty-five men have to live in a little world of their own for months at a time. Most of the crew are very young; they are apprentices, learning the dying art of working a sailing ship in preparation for their "ticket" which will qualify them to ship as a mate.

Despite the mixture of nationalities—Finns, Norwegians, Swedes, Germans and three Englishmen—there seemed to be no great language difficulties on board, according to one young English member of the crew—John Ratcliffe—who, I discovered, is the son of a wealthy cotton merchant of Colne, Lancashire, but prefers working before the mast to working in a cotton mill. Incidentally, the story-book touch was lacking here, too; for he did not run away from home to be a sailor, but shipped on the Passat with his father's approval.

The master of the vessel (only landlubbers would say "skipper") is Captain Sjogren, and, after unloading his cargo of 57,562 sacks (that is 4,692 tons) of grain for Messrs. R. and H. Hall, Ltd., in Dublin, he will take the Passat in ballast to her home port of Mariehamn, in Finland. This, strange as it seems, is one place the Passat has never visited, although she is registered there. The reason is that she was a German ship, built in 1911 at Hamburg, and was only purchased by a Finnish company two years ago.

After a short time spent at boarding ships entering Dublin's port, one becomes quite a master of broken English, and, by "going all cosmopolitan," I learned the story of the voyage from members of the crew.

BECALMED FOR DAYS.

"No, we did not make really good time on our journey" (this from a German). "We took 106 days from Wallaroo to the Lizard."

"But," says one of the Englishmen, "the grain ships that left after us will probably have the same trouble as we did—no trade winds."

"In the—what do you say, tropics?—we were becalmed for days," interjects a Swede.

"That is true," remarked the Englishman. "As a matter of fact, we drifted from the Falkland Isles up to the 'line.'"

And so on.

But the Passat met with no really bad weather (as sailors know it), even rounding Cape Horn. "With a bit of a drive in the wind, we might have done something worth writing about," grumbled one of the crew. Now she is in port, fresh meat and vegetables will be enjoyed by everyone on board, while the stevedores get to work and unload the sacks of golden grain and before the sails are unfurled on those tall masts—the Passat is 203 feet "from truck to keelson"—on the final leg of her journey to home to "pay off" all hands and find another crew to roam the seas again.

FINNISH BARQUE AT COVE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

COVE, Monday.

The Finnish barque Pommern, now anchored off Cork Harbour, short of provisions, has completed the voyage from Fort Victoria in 109 days. She is the fifth windjammer to make port, and has a cargo of four thousand tons of wheat.

FATAL MOTORING ACCIDENT.

A motor accident, which took place at Scart Bridge, about three miles from Bantry, on the main road from Cork, resulted in the death of William Payne. It appears that Payne and a friend of his, Denis McCarthy, of Bantry, went for a motor ride on Sunday evening, McCarthy riding pillion, and on their way back about midnight apparently a tyre burst causing young Payne to lose control of the machine, which struck the side of the bridge. Payne was thrown heavily on the road. McCarthy sustained injuries which necessitated his removal to Bantry Hospital.

CANTERBURY Cathedral, the preserving of which becomes increasingly necessary and costly, is partly maintained by a group of people, now numbering well over 3,000, who call themselves Friends of Canterbury Cathedral. The friends, in order to help to undertake the responsibility of this task, hold annually a festival of music and drama, which attracts a great number of English and foreign visitors.

Listeners will be privileged to hear a relay of the "Serenade" from the cloisters of the cathedral to-night, and the Symphony Concert to be performed within the cathedral itself on Wednesday.

The word serenade applied in this instance conveys the idea of rather restful music, played in the later hours. The music will be directed by Dr. Adrian Boult. The B.B.C. Orchestra begin that part of the programme which is available to listeners with Bach's "Brandenberg" Concerto No. 4 in G, followed by music of Mendelssohn and Vaughan Williams, then Schubert's Symphony No. 5 in B flat. The thought of this music being played in the setting of the cool grey cloisters as dusk is beginning to fall should create the right atmosphere for enjoyable listening.

"Schubertiade," coming from Belfast, is a suggestion of those intimate little parties given in Schubert's time, when his music was played and listened to by a few friends, Schubert himself often forming one of the party. These little social gatherings took place in the composer's native Vienna, and were then scalled the Schubertiaden. To-night's music will comprise some movements from Schubert's chamber music, and a selection of his lesser known songs.

Other items in the programmes which should prove acceptable to listeners to-night are a performance by the Band of the 2nd Battalion the King's Own Royal Regiment at 8 (Midland Regional), and a Welsh item entitled "Datganiad," being a recital of Welsh airs for voice, violoncello and pianoforte, arranged and composed by those of the younger school, as are the artists taking part.

ON LIFE-SAVING.

On Thursday next at 7.15 p.m., Lady Alington will broadcast a talk from the Dublin Station on "Saving Life from Drowning." Lady Alington is one of the greatest authorities on swimming and life-saving in the British Isles. A grand-daughter of the famous Lord Shaftesbury, she is a member of the Central Executive of the Royal Life-Saving Society, and takes a keen interest—practical and theoretical—in swimming as an exercise and sport, and as a means of saving life.

She holds the highest award of the Royal Life-Saving Society—the diploma with honours—and has many successes in championship swimming in London to her credit. She is also a most accomplished diver. She is a member of the Bath Club, London, and of the Amateur Diving Association.

Lady Alington took a prominent part in making the film of the Royal Life-Saving Society, "Saving Life from Drowning," in which she had a rôle that necessitated an expert practical and theoretical knowledge of swimming. This film was shown at the Capitol Theatre, Dublin, in November last and in several colleges in Leinster, and created widespread interest. The Leinster Branch I.A.S.A. is arranging for a further showing of this film in Dublin in the near future, and it is hoped also to have it shown in other centres in the Free State.

During the course of her talk on Thursday Lady Alington will speak on the activities of the Life Guard Corps, a newly-formed branch of the Royal Life-Saving Society, which is doing excellent work in the prevention of drowning accidents at numerous seaside resorts and bathing places in Great Britain.

Yet She Had a Shiny Nose!

A little perspiration from dancing and she found her complexion ruined. Her powder would not stay on. Her nose shone and her skin looked greasy. Frequent use of the puff seemed of no avail. She did not know that just a little Mousse of Cream in her powder would have made a world of difference. Mousse of Cream is an exclusive Tokalon patent process. It makes the powder stay on in spite of a hot sun, wind, rain, or perspiration from dancing in over-heated rooms, or playing tennis. It prevents your nose from getting shiny and makes your skin as smooth as satin. Mousse of Cream is the reason Poudre Tokalon is the most popular and widely used face powder. Try it to-day and see how different it is from ordinary powders. 6d. and 1/- a box.

COURT ECHO OF IRISH REBELLION.

MRS. SKEFFINGTON AWARDED £750 DAMAGES FOR LIBEL.

NO PENSION FROM BRITISH GOVERNMENT.

IN the High Court, Dublin, yesterday, Mr. Justice O'Byrne and a jury awarded £750 damages to Mrs. Hannah Sheehy-Skeffington, widow of the late Francis Sheehy-Skeffington, in an action for libel against the "Irish Catholic Herald." Judgment was entered for the amount given.

During the hearing of the case it was stated that the Lord Mayor of Dublin had approached the Prime Minister (Mr. Asquith) in 1916 with reference to the shooting of Mr. Sheehy-Skeffington, and that the Premier had invited Mrs. Skeffington to Downing street, and there discussed her demand for an official inquiry.

It was also stated that since the libel action was instituted the editor of the paper concerned had died, and that the death of Sir Francis Vane, a British military officer, who might have been able to give evidence, was announced yesterday.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE O'BYRNE AND A JURY.)

The hearing of an action of Mrs. Hannah Sheehy-Skeffington, lecturer and journalist, 7 Belgrave road, Rathmines, Dublin, against the New Catholic Press, Ltd., of Ludgate House, Fleet street, London, was begun in the High Court, Dublin, yesterday. The plaintiff claims £5,000 damages for alleged defamation, stated to have been contained in an article published on 20th January last in the Irish Catholic Herald, a newspaper, of which the defendants are the proprietors. The article of which the plaintiff complained was as follows:—

> "THE ACCEPTANCE OF AN ENGLISH PENSION.
> "An 'honest' Communist or any other sort of 'honest' criminal we can understand. Those who openly profess, as does Mr. H. G. Wells, the most debased opinions and recommend them to others, are intelligible. There is evil, naked and unashamed. But there are others.
> "Take, for example, the lady who, we believe, edits An Phoblacht, the Republic, in Dublin, and assails all and sundry who, unlike herself, are not unadulterated Republicans and Irish Nationalists of the pure breed. Mrs. Sheehy-Skeffington is her name. Her husband was brutally murdered in 1916 by a ruffian, one Colthurst, now at large. It was an infamous crime.
> "The widow was given a pension by the English Government. A provision was made for the education of her family. It was a just and proper compensation for the great wrong done to her. Now, here is our query.
> "Does the lady still draw from the 'infamous English Government' the money than awarded to her? And does she still denounce that Government and all those who are said to be willing to come to terms with it? And did she not come to terms with it? And how explain this inconsistency?
> "We can understand war, on principle, against any authority. But how about 'war to the knife' upon an authority from which one is content to draw a pension?
> "We presume that the pension is still drawn. If not, then since its repudiation by the lady, if it has been repudiated, she is not inconsistent. What are the facts?"

The plaintiff stated that those words were false and malicious; that they meant, and were understood to mean, that she was a hypocrite, who, as editor of An Phoblacht, and otherwise, denounced the British Government, and all those who were said to be willing to come to terms with it, but had accepted and was in receipt of a pension and provision for the education of her family from that Government. By reason of the publication, plaintiff said, she had been greatly injured in her reputation and had suffered damage.

A DENIAL.

The defendants, in their defence, denied the publication of the words; that they meant or were understood to mean what was alleged, or that they bore any defamatory meaning; and they pleaded that, in their ordinary and natural meaning and without the alleged meanings, the words were true in substance and in fact, and that, so far as they were expressions of opinion, they were fair comment, made in good faith and without malice on a matter of public interest.

Mr. A. E. Wood, K.C., and Mr. Alec Lynn (instructed by Messrs. Kennedy and McGonagle), appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Cecil Lavery, K.C., and Mr. Frank Monks (instructed by Messrs. D. and T. Fitzgerald) for the defendants.

Opening the case for the plaintiff, Mr Wood said that the Irish Catholic Herald was published by the New Catholic Press, and had for its motto, Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice, which might be freely translated: "For the glory of the Church and the Honour of the Pope"; it had great influence with a big section of readers. When such a paper published what, he submitted, was a serious, wanton and cruel libel, it did it with such a sanction as to make the libel almost irremoval from the minds of the readers.

Mr. Sheehy-Skeffington, husband of the plaintiff, was an extreme Pacifist, and, in April, 1916, was seized and shot; his body was concealed, and his widow's house ransacked. No excuse of any kind was offered for that terrible outrage at the time. Mrs. Sheehy-Skeffington, the present plaintiff, insisted upon an inquiry, and refused money offered to her as an alternative. The inquiry was subsequently held, and it vindicated the name and honour of Mr. Sheehy-Skeffington. Now, eighteen years afterwards, the Irish Catholic Herald, which, in the interval, had been receiving articles from the plaintiff, came out and for some reason of its own thought fit to describe the plaintiff as a hypocrite—that, whilst receiving a pension from the British Government, she stood on a platform antagonistic to the people paying her, and that she was in fact biting the hand that fed her. There was not a word of truth in any of the allegations made, and he asked the jury to show in ample terms their condemnation of this scurrilous attempt to defame the plaintiff.

NO PENSION.

Mrs. Sheehy-Skeffington was one of the most distinguished students of her time in the National University. Since her husband's untimely and tragic death, she had, as a journalist and speaker, tried to eke out an existence, and, as such, was dependent on public opinion for her livelihood. Her husband had been a Pacifist who gave his life for his ideals. She had faithfully followed in his footsteps. This was an attack upon her as being a hypocrite and an attempt to destroy her reputation and her livelihood by people who, whilst professing to work for "The Glory of the Church and the Honour of the Pope," dishonoured the terms in which they sought to appeal to the public, and, possibly, tried to make gain out of the religion they profaned. Mrs. Sheehy-Skeffington did not receive a pension. She indignantly refused it when it was offered as an alternative to an inquiry. But this libellous article was headed, "The Acceptance of an English Pension." It suggested in its opening sentences that Mrs Sheehy-Skeffington was a dishonest Communist and a criminal. Counsel challenged the editor or publisher of the Irish Catholic Herald to prove that she was a Communist, honest or dishonest, or a criminal. She had her ideals. It had been said that "all wrong is ultimately borne by women," and plaintiff was an illustration of the truth of that saying: she had had her husband stricken down, her heart and soul torn by her loss, and left alone in the struggle for existence.

"It is not true," said Mr. Wood, "that Mrs. Sheehy-Skeffington is a Communist. It is not true that she edited An Phoblacht. She has contributed articles to that paper and assisted the editor for two years. That is her business, and she is entitled to hold her views and to make propaganda in support of them." Every statement in the article in the Irish Catholic Herald, he continued, was false. When the basis of fact was untrue there could be no fair comment, and, in this case, what purported to be fair comment was a collection of queries, the answer to each of which was dependent on the reader accepting the alleged statement of fact.

WITNESSES.

The paper must have known that its statements were false. The editor, Mr. Diamond, was well known to plaintiff. In 1925 and in 1926 she dined with him at his invitation in the Shelbourne Hotel, and she had since contributed both articles and letters to his papers. Mr. Diamond knew, and the paper knew, that she never received any pension, and that no provision had ever been made for her family. In 1929 she reviewed for Mr. Diamond a book, "Agin' the Government," by Sir Francis Vane, and in that book there was a long and detailed account by that officer of the outrage committed on Mr. Sheehy-Skeffington in April, 1916. Sir Francis Vane knew that the widow had received neither pension nor compensation. In view of those circumstances, counsel submitted that the article of which complaint was now made was deliberate and malicious.

Was it, he asked, written 18 years after the event because the defendants knew that witnesses acquainted with the details of Mrs Sheehy-Skeffington's case were now dead? Or because Mr. Timothy Healy, late Governor General, and Mr. John Dillon were dead and gone? Had the defendants in January last overlooked the fact that Sir Francis Vane, another witness, and an officer who had sacrificed his career in the British Army to secure justice for Mrs. Sheehy-Skeffington, was then alive?

Fate was strange in its workings, because it was only this morning that the newspapers recorded the passing of Sir Francis Vane, too.

But there was still a witness, Mrs. Porter, who could prove the facts connected with plaintiff's interview with the Prime Minister in London in July, 1916.

There had been, said counsel, no correction of this article and no apology, the defendants said that the article was not injurious to the plaintiff; and, secondly, that anything they said was fair comment.

Mr. Wood, at the close of his address, referred to the plaintiff as the most unselfish woman of our time.

Mr. Lavery said that the publication was admitted.

Mrs. Sheehy-Skeffington, examined by Mr. Wood, said that she had devoted a great part of her life to journalism and teaching. She had taken part in national propaganda.

Mr. Wood—In Easter week, 1916, your husband was shot at the instance of Captain Bowen-Colthurst?

Witness replied that he was shot on the 26th April, and no explanation was given to her either before or after.

LORD MAYOR'S AID.

Having given further evidence regarding the visit to her house, two days later, of Captain Bowen-Colthurst and a military party of 40 men, Mrs. Sheehy-Skeffington said that she demanded an inquiry, and that Mr. T. M. Healy, M.P., Mr. Dillon, M.P., the present Lord Mayor of Dublin, and others were active on her behalf. Suggestions were put forward that she would be compensated instead of having an inquiry

Mr. Wood—Did you attend at Downing street?—Yes.

At the request of Mr. Asquith?—Yes.

Witness said that she brought Mrs. Porter with her. That was about 16th July, 1916. Mr. Asquith had promised an inquiry to Mr. Dillon and he and Mr. Healy kept pressing, and finally Mr Healy had a specific question down in the House of Commons, when suddenly Mr. Asquith surprised him by saying that he was seeing her personally. She told Mr. Dillon, who said that Mr. Asquith intended to square her, if possible, by compensation, and he advised her to bring a friend with her.

What took place with Mr. Asquith?—Mr. Asquith expressed deep sorrow for the tragedy, but said there would be many difficulties in the way of a proper inquiry; that it could not be a sworn inquiry, and that the House of Commons would not tolerate the war being interfered with. He asked had I not received some overtures with regard to compensation, and added that in the case of other men murdered at the same time as my husband the Government was prepared to make compensation, and that he would guarantee me ample and even generous compensation. I said that the only compensation he could give me would be the fulfilment of his promise of the inquiry. He did not proceed further with that offer. He gave the undertaking in the House of Commons sometime in August to set up the inquiry, and it was held in September.

REPUBLICAN VIEWS.

Witness then, in reply to further questions, gave particulars about her lecturing and propaganda in America, England and Scotland. In 1919, Mr. Diamond, she said, wrote to her, stating that he would like to arrange with her for a series of lectures in England.

Finally questioned by Mr. Wood about compensation from the British Government, plaintiff said that she never received any compensation, either for herself or her son, directly or indirectly.

Cross-examined by Mr. Lavery, she agreed that she had taken a prominent part in public affairs, and held republican views.

Mr. Lavery—You have said that your mental attitude now is the same as in 1919?—Absolutely.

That referred to your political views?—Yes.

Questioned about her holding of strong views, she said that she held strong views, but she disapproved of scurrility.

Mr. Lavery—Do you object to being described as an unadulterated republican?—I do not know what you mean by an unadulterated republican: I think it is very sloppy English.

Are you properly described as an unadulterated republican?—A hundred per cent. republican.

With regard to Communism, do you hold views which might be described as Communist views?—I am not a Communist.

Witness further said that she was not a member of the Communist Party, and did not describe herself as a Communist, although she had a good deal of sympathy with their educational and social ideas.

The Lord Mayor of Dublin (Alderman A. Byrne) was the next witness, and in reply to Mr. Wood, he said that after Mr. Sheehy-Skeffington's death in April, 1916, he had an interview with the Prime Minister on the subject of compensation. He was a member of the British Parliament at the time, and shortly after Mr. Sheehy-Skeffington's death he was in the House of Commons, and took the opportunity to discuss the matter with Mr. Asquith. Mr. Asquith expressed horror at the murder and sincere regret, and stated that the Government were prepared to make amends to the best of their ability, and he was prepared to recommend reasonable compensation for Mrs. Sheehy-Skeffington. "I," added witness, "conveyed that to Mrs. Skeffington, but she said that no compensation from the British Government would be acceptable by her."

THE DEFENCE.

Mr. Wood—You were one of the members of Parliament actively interested on behalf of the Republicans in this country and their treatment?—I asked a few questions about the treatment of prisoners.

Mr. Lavery did not cross-examine.

Mrs. Muriel Porter, the next witness, stated, in reply to Mr. Wood, that she was in London in July, 1916, and accompanied Mrs. Skeffington on the occasion of the interview with Mr. Asquith. What Mrs. Skeffington had stated about what took place was accurate.

Witness was not cross-examined.

This closed the plaintiff's case.

Mr. Lavery, for the defendants, said that he did not propose to call any witnesses, as there was no question at issue on which testimony would help. Mr. Charles Diamond, the editor of the Irish Catholic Herald, had died since the article was written and published. Mr. Diamond had been editor of a large number of Catholic papers circulating in Great Britain and Ireland, and was a well-known figure in Catholic journalism. Counsel for the plaintiff had adjured the jurors in the name of religion, and for the sake of their mothers and sisters, to award heavy damages. Religion had nothing whatever to do with the case, and its introduction was only oratorical ranting. There was no justification for trying to drag it in or for accusing the late Mr. Diamond of having used religion for the purpose of personal gain. Mr. Diamond had died honoured by the Church, and was comforted on his deathbed by a message from His Holiness the Pope. But the case was not one into which religious or political prejudices should be introduced: it was an ordinary case, and the mention of extraneous matters was purely for the purpose of raising it to a plane on which it was not entitled to stand on its merits. The fact that the Irish Catholic Herald had as its motto, "Pro ecclesia et Pontifice," did not give it any special religious sanction, and none was claimed for it.

JUDGMENT.

Mrs. Sheehy-Skeffington, continued Mr. Lavery, spoke at political meetings and described herself as 100 per cent. Republican, although she objected to the term "unadulterated Republican." She had shown herself loth to answer his questions whether she held Communistic views, but he gathered from her that, whilst she was not a member of any official Communist party, she held Communist views on various matters, social, educational and economic. He would have described such a person as a Communist, but she did not agree. Anyhow, she admitted she held extreme Republican views and some Communist views, and she criticised her political opponents strongly from public platforms. He would suggest then that she should be the last person to object to strong criticism being directed against herself.

Mr. H. G. Wells, to whom the article referred in more vigorous language than it did to her, had not seen fit to appeal to the Courts. Mrs. Sheehy-Skeffington was apparently annoyed at having been described as editor of An Phoblacht, but she admitted that she had been assistant editor for two years and still contributed to it.

She had been offered a pension over and over again by the British Government, but had not accepted it. The article only asked for the facts of the situation. If they had been supplied, they would have been published. The paper had offered to publish any correction sent to it, but the plaintiff did not want a correction, and had adopted the course of trying to get damages in an Irish Court from a British journal. Counsel submitted that a lady who claimed the right to criticise her political opponents strongly had no right to complain of their criticising her and asking for an explanation of a matter about which exact information was not available. That explanation would have been published and would have conclusively shown that her attitude was not inconsistent.

Mr. Alec Lynn replied for the plaintiff and Mr. Justice O'Byrne summed up.

The jury answered the questions left to them by Mr. Justice O'Byrne as follows:—

Do the words complained of mean that the plaintiff is a hypocrite?—Yes.

Do they constitute a libel on the plaintiff?—Yes.

Are the words fair comment?—No.

Damages—£750.

On the application of Mr. Wood, judgment for £750 and costs was entered for the plaintiff.

SALE OF CORK LANDS.

THREATS TO PURCHASER.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE MEREDITH.)

An action was heard concerning the estate of Denis Culhane, late of Tenniscart, Co. Cork, farmer, in which Margaret Culhane is plaintiff, and Mary Culhane and John Culhane, all of the same address, are defendants.

Mr. Michael J. Ryan, K.C., with whom was Mr. Walter Molony (instructed by Mr. J. J. Power), moved on behalf of the defendant, Mary Culhane, for directions regarding what steps should be taken by her to carry out the sale of the 82-acre lands of Tenniscart (directed by an order of the Court dated 29th May, 1933) by reason of the failure of Thomas Gardiner, Ballyclough, Mallow, who was declared purchaser (by order of the Court of 22nd January last) to complete the purchase.

Counsel moved on the affidavit of Mr. Power, solicitor for the defendant, Mary Culhane, which set out that the purchaser, Thomas Gardiner, had informed Mr. Leahy, the auctioneer, that he had received threats in respect of the purchase and he would not be able to complete the sale.

Mr. Ryan also read the affidavit of Thomas Gardiner, which set out that he was resident in Canada for about ten years, and on his return to this country got in touch with Mr. Leahy with a view to purchasing the lands referred to. "I offered," the affidavit stated, "£1,200 for the lands, but Mr. Leahy informed me that I would have to make a higher offer. I then questioned him about the young Culhane's, and he assured me it was to settle their claims that the place was being sold. On receiving this assurance I made an offer of £1,400, which I was informed in January, 1934, was accepted by the Court. I subsequently heard that the defendant, John Culhane had removed cattle, horses and machinery off the lands and was selling them. This was the first I heard of his attitude in the matter. If I had heard it previously I would not make any offer for the lands. About the middle of the month of February last a man, whom I did not know, called to my residence and advised me to have nothing to do with the place. I went to Fermoy and saw Mr. Carroll, solicitor for the defendants, and informed him of the circumstances, and he stated he knew nothing of the defendant, John Culhane. I then saw Mr. Leahy and went with him to Mr. Power, solicitor, and asked him to relieve me of my obligation to purchase. On March 1st I went to Miss Culhane, one of the defendants, and she told me she knew nothing of her brother, John Culhane, and she warned me that without his goodwill it would not be safe for me to have anything to do with the place. She stated that he believed he was the only person entitled to sell the place. . . . On the night of April 3rd I was accosted by men and warned not to have anything to do with the sale."

Mr. Justice Meredith gave liberty to Thomas Gardiner to rescind his contract, and he gave similar liberty to the defendant, Mary Culhane, and he gave the latter further liberty to set the lands in meadowing or for grazing purposes. He allowed both parties their costs.

CORK CLERK'S FATAL INJURIES.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE SULLIVAN AND A JURY.)

Mrs. Ellen Sexton, of South View, Ballinlough road, Cork, on behalf of herself and her five children, claimed damages against the Irish Omnibus Company for the loss of her husband, Thomas Sexton, who had been employed as a clerk by the Cork Board of Assistance, and whose death, she alleged, was caused through the negligence of a servant of the defendant company in the driving of an omnibus between Douglas and Cork on the 21st of last November.

It was stated that Mr. Sexton was knocked down by the 'bus, and received injuries from which he died on the following day.

The defendants denied negligence, and pleaded contributory negligence on the part of the late Thomas Sexton.

The Court rose before the hearing had concluded.

ANOTHER CONDITIONAL ORDER

MEN WHO AWAIT TRIAL BY MILITARY TRIBUNAL.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE O'BYRNE.)

AN application for relief by way of habeas corpus and prohibition was made in respect of the following persons awaiting trial by the Military Tribunal:—Jeremiah Ryan, Ballybeg, Littleton, Co. Tipperary (farmer); Hubert Johnston, Dovea, Thurles (hackney driver); John Harty, Ballyvoneen, Thurles (farmer); James Cantwell, Moyne, Templemore (farmer and publican).

The application was made by Mr. Vincent Rice, K.C., who, with Mr. J. M. FitzGerald, K.C., Mr. Cecil Lavery, K.C., and Mr. James Bourke (instructed by Messrs. James F. Darcy and Co.) appeared for the accused persons.

Mr. Rice said that the matter was one of urgency, as the accused men were ordered to be put on trial on the following day. In an affidavit, signed by all four men, they stated that they were arrested at their own homes by members of the Civic Guards on April 22 and removed to Thurles Guards Station, where they were interrogated by Superintendent M. Muldoon, Superintendent M. Buggy and Sergeant M. Corcoran. They were next removed to Limerick Jail, where they were detained eight days before being taken to Arbour Hill Military Detention Barracks on May 2. On May 31 they were brought before the Military Tribunal and charged with a series of offences, including conspiracy to shoot and attempting to shoot with intent to murder and do grievous bodily harm; with unlawful assembly, with being members of an unlawful association, and with conspiracy to interfere with and obstruct the enforcement of the law.

MANY WITNESSES.

From information obtained by their solicitors they understood that about ninety witnesses were to be called for the prosecution, and, as they had had only a few days in which to prepare their defence, they applied for an adjournment, which was granted, to June 12. They had pleaded not guilty to each and all of the charges preferred against them, and they were completely innocent of them.

Counsel said further that he asked for habeas corpus and prohibition on the grounds that the accused men were illegally detained because

"1. The Constitution (Amendment No. 17) Act, 1931, is ultra vires, unconstitutional and void, in that it is contrary to Articles 6, 72, 64 of the Constitution, and that the Constitution (Amendment No. 16) Act, 1929, is invalid.

"2. The Constitution (Special Powers) Tribunal had and has no lawful existence, jurisdiction or authority."

Mr. Rice explained that the articles of the Constitution mentioned as having been infringed by the No. 17 Amendment Act related to the right of trial by jury, the liberty of the subject, and trial by the ordinary Courts. Amendment No. 16 purported to extend the period within which amendments to the Constitution might be made by ordinary legislation, and the submission was that it was invalid.

Mr. Justice O'Byrne said that, as the Supreme Court had directed those points to be argued, the relief sought would be granted. Notice should be served on the members of the Constitution (Special Powers) Tribunal, on the Registra of that Tribunal, on the Governor of Arbour Hill Barracks, and on the Chief State Solicitor for the Attorney-General.

COUNTY LOUTH SCENES.

BLUE SHIRTS ATTACKED.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

DUNDALK, Monday.

An ugly scene developed in Castlebellingham, a village seven miles from Dundalk, last night, and for an hour there was pandemonium, when Blue Shirts and crowds attending Gaelic football matches came into collision. The situation was made more anxious because nearly all the Civic Guards in the village were on special duty attending a meeting in Ardee.

A party of four Blue Shirts returning from a meeting in Ardee were attacked by a group of men on the station road, and stones were thrown. One of the Blue Shirts retaliated, and injured an attacker.

Later in the village the Blue Shirt party was chased by a very large crowd from the football field, and after one of the Blue Shirts had been mauled they succeeded in getting into houses in the village, the owners then closing the doors and refusing to admit the attackers. The attackers, who were mostly Drogheda people, surrounded the houses in a menacing way.

Meantime Guard Lynch and some of the Drogheda footballers attempted to restore order, and they succeeded in forcing the demonstrators down the village on their way home. Guards were rushed from Dundalk and Drogheda later, but they were not needed.

The rates and costs amounted to £24. The cattle were sold for £21 6s. One was bought on behalf of the owner for £5 16s., and others by a man named O'Neill.

Subsequently Messrs. Hearn, Curran, Wall, and others addressed a protest meeting.

JURORS FINED.

At the opening of the session of the Central Criminal Court, Green street, Mr. Justice Hanna presiding, only 143 jurors answered out of 300 summoned. Where no sufficient excuse was forthcoming fines of £3 were imposed.

Joe Sazio, his wife and twenty-year-old daughter were stabbed to death at Susanville, California, by a man supposed to be a maniac, who afterwards killed another man and girl. He was arrested.

GWEN, I CAN'T STAND LATE NIGHTS. HEAVY MEALS AND ALL THE SMOKE. I'M 40, YOU KNOW!
FORTY FIDDLESTICKS! IT'S JUST ACIDITY. I'LL TELL YOU HOW TO GET RID OF IT QUICKLY.
AND SHE DID!

Most men and women past forty find stomach trouble; certain foods disagree, digestion slows up, late meals at night interfere with sleep.

Don't blame it on "middle-age." It's usually just acidity and easily corrected. Take 2 teaspoonfuls of 'Milk of Magnesia' at bedtime, and before breakfast. This neutralizes stomach acids, and you feel fine—all day. Those frequent upsets and headaches will vanish. Try it!

One dose of 'Milk of Magnesia' at any time will relieve the most acute distress from indigestion immediately.

DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT.

STUDENT CHARGED.

ALLEGED THEFT OF CAR.

(BEFORE MR. O'SULLIVAN.)

George Dunne, medical student, of 28 Westland row, was remanded on bail, charged with having stolen, early yesterday (Monday) morning, a motor car, value £275, the property of Mr. Bernard Egan, 78 Middle Abbey street, from where it was parked in Palmerstown, Co. Dublin. He was also charged with feloniously receiving the car knowing it to have been stolen or otherwise unlawfully obtained. There was a further charge of having the car illegally in his possession at Palmerstown and at Bachelor's Walk between 3 and 4 a.m., where it was found by Guard 47 C. A fourth count charged him with having driven, used and taken possession of the car without the owner's consent, and a fifth count charged him with driving the car without a driver's licence.

CRUMLIN 'BUS ACCIDENT.

INFORMATIONS REFUSED.

Informations were refused in the case in which Michael Loughnan (34), Athy, motor driver, was charged with causing the death of John Lowry (65), Summerhill, Dublin, a chimney sweep.

Guard Herbert, Crumlin, gave evidence of the accused man making a statement to the effect that shortly after 12 o'clock mid-day on January 4 last, as he was driving a lorry, with two or three tons of sand, through Crumlin towards the city, he saw a man step off the footpath, hesitate in the roadway, and then start to run, with the result that he struck against the right front mudguard of the lorry and was knocked down.

Defendant said that he would not swerve to the right on account of oncoming traffic. He swerved to the left and crashed into a wall. The lorry came to a standstill in the front garden of the house 194 Crumlin road. It was a wet day, and he was coming down hill.

Thomas Donegan, who was standing near the spot, said that he saw the man hesitate on the roadway and then being struck by the mudguard of the lorry.

In reply to Mr. Sean Ryan, who defended, witness said that after first hesitating the man rushes as if to continue across the road.

Other witnesses corroborated.

BAG-SNATCHING CHARGE.

John O'Hara (16½), no fixed address, was charged with having snatched a handbag from Miss Gay, 44 Lower Dominick street, at Mount Argus road, Harold's Cross, on Saturday afternoon. It was stated that people who noticed the incident gave chase, but the bag-snatcher made his escape over a wall into a field.

Guard McGrillion said he went to the place in response to a telephone call. He saw a youth in a field, and, as he answered the description given, he took charge of him. In his possession he found a purse, a fountain pen and a cigarette-holder. The youth said he had been given these articles by various people, but later admitted that he had snatched the lady's handbag, which, however, he had thrown back at her.

The accused youth was remanded in custody until Thursday next.

REFUSED TO PAY FULL FARE.

Myles J. Gaffney (30), Edenvale road, unemployed; Christopher Devine (26), Ranelagh avenue, chauffeur; and J. Donegan (27), Milltown, greengrocer, were fined 10s. each for travelling in a D.U.T. Company's 'bus between Dundrum and Dublin for a distance further than that for which they had paid fares, and refusing to pay the conductor the increased fare.

NEWSBOYS SENTENCED.

Patrick Lyons and Daniel Redmond, newsboys, both living at 26 North Cumberland street, Dublin, were sentenced to fourteen days' imprisonment each, with hard labour, for stealing a 10s. note from L. McLaughlin, a woman of no fixed residence, at Upper Sheriff street, between 8 and 9 o'clock on Sunday morning.

The ceremony was performed by the Venerable Archdeacon Slattery, P.P., V.F., and, in addition to the members of the Urban Council, there was a large attendance of the general public.

Mr. S. T. O'Neill, Town Clerk, who read an address, said that this was one of the biggest schemes that had been undertaken in Nenagh. The all-in cost is £35,000. The Government would undertake repayment of £22,000. It was right to acknowledge the splendid financial assistance made available by the Government, without which it would be impossible to undertake the work.

MOTOR CYCLIST'S FATAL INJURIES.

An inquest was opened and adjourned at Athy, Co. Kildare, yesterday by Dr. J. O'Kelly, Acting Coroner, on the body of Francis Moore (25), Mullaghmore, Wolfhill, Co. Kildare, who died on Sunday following injuries received through falling off a motor bicycle.

As the principal witness, Patrick Dempsey, Crossard, Wolfhill, deceased's man's pillion passenger, was still in a serious condition, only evidence of identification and medical evidence were taken.

Dr. John Kilbride, who treated Moore after he had been discovered at Geraldine, about a mile from Athy, lying on the roadside, attributed death to shock and hæmorrhage, caused by an extensive fracture of the skull.

Holland's determination to stick to the gold standard was reiterated by the Government yesterday.

Make FRIDAY Cheese Day

Vary the monotony of Friday's menu this week by making a simple savoury cheese dish with Galtee. Nothing else can add the spice of satisfying flavour or the rich nutriment of this fine natural food. Here is a delightful recipe:

WELSH RAREBIT.

dozs. Galtee cheese, ½ teacupful milk, 1 egg, slices of toast; salt and pepper. Cut the cheese into tiny dice and put in a saucepan with the milk. Stir until the cheese has dissolved, add salt and pepper. Take from the fire and stir in the beaten egg. Have the slices of buttered toast ready. Pour the cheese mixture over and serve very hot.

Yes please I'd love it !

Ask the younger generation what they think of a wholesome modern food—Galtee. They love it, they love the mild flavour, the creamy taste and texture. And if they still remember what they learnt at school, they'll know that there's nothing so sustaining and nourishing as cheese—as Galtee Cheese. For Galtee is made under the most hygienic modern methods from rich full-cream Irish milk. Every young girl and every young man who goes in for sport finds Galtee the food that satisfies their appetites. "Yes, please. We love it," say the younger generation, and who would admit that he doesn't belong to the young ones! Galtee Cheese is sold in dainty wrapped sections at 6d. and 1/- per box, and by weight.

The Double-Headed Penny.

The campaign for the forthcoming local elections in the Free State was opened officially on Sunday, and for the next fortnight the electorate will be treated to a spate of party propaganda. President de Valera and his Ministers attach great importance to the elections, which will be held on June 26th; for the President has said that failure to gain a victory will weaken the Government badly, and one of his lieutenants has announced that the Executive Council will interpret defeat as a notice to quit. Everything possible will be done, therefore, to persuade the local government electors to return the Fianna Fáil candidates, while the United Ireland Party will take equally vigorous steps to encompass their rout. We regret very much that the local elections should be fought on party lines. The divorce of local affairs from party politics was one of Mr. Cosgrave's notable reforms, and the result was a marked increase in the efficiency of local administration. President de Valera, however, has ordained that Fianna Fáil shall contest the elections as a purely political party, and, in the circumstances, the United Ireland Party has been forced to accept the challenge. The elections will be held on the Local Government register, which is confined to rated occupiers. Both the parties claim to command the confidence of the country's youth, but there can be little doubt that Fianna Fáil will be at a disadvantage in this respect. We hope that President de Valera's party will be defeated, because we believe that in present circumstances almost any change must be for the better. Nevertheless, we should feel more confident if the United Ireland Party had a bolder programme, which would encourage the Conservative elements in the Free State to give it their whole-hearted support.

President de Valera is making the land annuities a primary issue in the elections. In his speech at Ennis on Sunday he spoke at some length on the "economic war," which, he declared, had been forced on the Free State by Great Britain, and he repeated all his well-worn arguments to prove that the annuities were due neither legally nor morally to the British Government. He also attacked certain newspapers—including ourselves—because they did not support him in his attitude, basing his case on the entirely false analogy of the British War debt to the United States. We have opposed the Free State Government's action in respect of the land annuities solely because we are convinced that President de Valera was in the wrong. He never pleaded inability to pay. If he had taken that course he might have received a substantial measure of support from Free State business men, because he would have had a reasonably sound case. He chose, however, to hurl defiance at Britain, announcing that he would not pay a penny on the ground that the money was not owed. Furthermore, he antagonised the British Government by his removal of the Oath from the Constitution without any reference to London, and by his general treatment of the Anglo-Irish Treaty as a mere scrap of paper. It is true that he proclaimed his readiness to submit the annuities problem to arbitration by some extra-Imperial tribunal; but what was that proclamation worth? On Sunday, speaking at Mitchelstown, the Minister for Finance let the cat out of the bag. "Even if an international court," he said, "found against the Fianna Fáil contention. . . . Fianna Fáil could turn round and say that the annuities were the price of the land war, and that the Irish people were just as much entitled to have them cancelled as Great Britain was entitled to seek cancellation of its debt to the United States."

Could anything be more provocative than this statement? Mr. MacEntee, it seems, will treat with the British Government only on the principle—"heads I win, tails you lose." That attitude, unhappily, is typical of Fianna Fáil. It must have everything both ways. It declares from the house-tops that it aims at an independent Republic; but it refuses to secede from the British Empire. It announces that it wishes to be rid of the cattle trade; yet it pays expensive bounties to enable the farmers to retain a hold on the British market. No country could be governed successfully in this way. We have not the highest opinion of Mr. J. H. Thomas as a statesman; but he hardly could be expected to enter into negotiations with a Government, one of whose principal members admits with such cynical frankness that, even if Great Britain should agree to foreign arbitration, the Free State would not abide by its result. How can President de Valera expect responsible newspapers to sponsor such an attitude? How can he hope to gain the respect of other nations while he continues to stand over such contemptuous disregard of all the principles of international dealings? We are quite certain that the British Government would be prepared to make a just and generous settlement of the dispute with the Free State, and, furthermore, that it would not allow any mere consideration of financial arithmetic to stand in the way; but a bargain is a bargain. If President de Valera still is willing to submit to arbitration, he must disown Mr. MacEntee; otherwise arbitration by any form of tribunal would be a complete farce. We invite him to declare his policy on this matter; for it is of the utmost importance. The "economic war" has been in progress now for nearly two years. We believe that it could, and ought to be, settled to-morrow; but clearly there can be no settlement by the verdict of a double-headed penny.

Ireland's Beauty.

A charming album of photographs from The Times, grouped under the name of "Great Britain: Her Beauty and Achievements," has just appeared. It is a striking publication, offering a variety of really excellent views of some of the loveliest places in the United Kingdom, together with many scenes of historic, industrial or social interest. Such a publication is admirably calculated to attract visitors to England; and the thought arises whether Ireland would not be able to turn out an album of the kind which, in its own way, would be at least as impressive. The pomp and circumstance that characterise so many of these English scenes would be lacking from our volume; the gracious cathedrals and country seats would not be there in the same plenty; the cunning works by which long generations of men have added to nature's beauty, or have brought beauty into being where it did not exist previously, would be missed. Yet we are not entirely devoid of such things; and, for the filling of our album, we have a wealth of natural beauty, rare and distinctive, that has been denied to England. It is time, perhaps, that Ireland should begin to study the arts of publicity. We do not seek to decry the activities of the Irish Tourist Association and other bodies which have wrought valiantly in the last few years to spread the knowledge of Ireland's loveliness throughout the earth; but in matters of this sort England has a long start over us, and almost has reached the stage at which she has no further need of publicity. In the remotest countries of the world the name of England stands for something more than a certain type of government or a certain type of people. To the average foreigner it calls up a picture of soft, quiet country, stately houses, a general tranquillity that is the result of centuries of internal peace. We doubt if the name of Ireland, except to the "exile," summons any definite picture. Other nations have heard of a few of her beauty spots—Killarney, in nine cases out of ten. They do not know that our country is crammed with lovely places, every whit as attractive as Killarney, because nobody has taken the trouble to tell them, or that we can point to sites as thickly steeped in history as any site in England, and ten times as thickly steeped in legend. England has learned the art of "projecting" herself. It is time that we should learn and employ it not only for the sake of our tourist traffic, but for the sake of our national being.

Television.

Ireland often may show herself to be less progressive than we could wish, but, at any rate, her name has a way of becoming linked with important developments. The first successful wireless message to be transmitted was sent to an Irish newspaper office, the first crossing of the Atlantic by air was completed on Irish ground, and now it appears that Ireland is to be connected with a great experiment in television. According to a report from London, the first television theatre in the world is to be opened in Blackpool shortly. Happenings in many places will be recorded on the spot by a portable apparatus, and will be transmitted by a land line to various studios, eventually finding their way to the screen in the Blackpool theatre. Details are lacking at the moment, but it is said that studios are to be erected in the Free State as well as in Great Britain, thus permitting the English holiday-maker to watch the Lord Mayor shaking hands or the President denouncing Mr. Thomas at the very moment when these important events are taking place. If the Blackpool experiment is successful, the system may be applied to a chain of cinemas throughout the country. In due course, perhaps, there may be a complete revolution in the film trade, and the latest Hollywood romance may be shown on the screen while the company actually is taking part in it. Without attempting to look so far ahead, we can see that such an idea has great possibilities. Meanwhile, the cinema companies are bound to welcome it. As their efforts to find anything new to say almost have been abandoned, a fresh method of telling the old stories ought to prove a godsend.

A Grim Reminder.

Every now and then during the past few years there have come reports that the people of Hamburg, or Tokyo, or Trieste, or it might be Brussels, have been receiving practice in the use of gas masks. Thereupon we shiver gently, reflecting that these people will be the sufferers in the event of a new war, and thanking Heaven that our remote position, so inconvenient for many purposes, is at least a protection against the horrors of battle. It must have been a shock, therefore, to many Irishmen when they learned on Saturday last that the St. John Ambulance Brigade was staging a demonstration in Dublin of first-aid in chemical warfare. The teams were fully equipped with gas masks and respirators; the gas alarm was sounded, and drill proceeded exactly as it must proceed in a well organised community when the real alarm sounds in the next great war. We shall do well to take the lesson of this demonstration to heart. The next war will not be an affair of armies and trenches; it will be a war in the air, and it will be waged not upon entrenched groups of fighting men, but upon the cities lying behind the front. Ireland will be no safer than England or any other nation. Raiding air fleets could oversail half of England twenty years ago, and aviation has developed so enormously during the interval that the further distance to Ireland will be nothing when the next war comes. Neutrality will be no help; for the clashing air fleets of great Powers are not likely to be particular about the scene of their conflicts. It is hardly a pleasant prospect, but the St. John Ambulance Brigade has done well to bring it before our eyes.

NORTHERN RATES BURDEN.

SPECIAL MEETING IN BELFAST.

A special meeting of the Belfast Corporation will be held to-day to consider, with reference to the City of Belfast, reports from the Finance Committee dealing with the probable effect of the Government financial and other bills of the current year. In this measure it is sought to impose a special rate for education of 6d. in the pound, to be increased to 1s. next year. An imposition of 11d. in the pound for unemployment relief is also contemplated. These proposals are held by the Finance Committee to be both unfair and unsound. With regard to the unemployment tax, it is held that this is a national problem which should be dealt with by the nation rather than the Corporation. The Corporation will be asked to put the matter very strongly before members of the Northern Parliament.

THE LATE MR. J. E. HEALY.

The following resolution was passed yesterday, Professor J. T. Wigham, M.D., presiding:—

"That the committee of the Irish Society for Protection of Birds, at its first meeting after the lamented death of Mr. John Edward Healy, wishes to express in the name of the whole Society the deep sorrow that all must feel at the passing from amongst us of so valuable a life, and, above all, to place on record its grateful appreciation of the immense services that, as editor of the Irish Times, Mr. Healy lost no opportunity of rendering to the cause for which this Society exists.

"That this resolution be forwarded to Mrs. Healy with an assurance of the committee's deep sympathy with her and with the other members of the bereaved family in their sorrow."

FINANCE BILL.

INCOME TAX AND TEA DUTY.

FROM OUR PARLIAMENTARY CORRESPONDENT.

WESTMINSTER, Monday.

The House of Commons to-day in Committee on the Finance Bill agreed to a new clause moved by the Minister of Transport (Major Stanley), which authorised the payment by cheque of the amount due for Excise licences, subject to the proviso that, in the event of the cheque being dishonoured, the licence should be void as from the time when it was granted.

Mr. D. R. Grenfell (Labour) moved the abolition of the tea duty, on the ground that it constituted a very heavy burden on the class of people least able to bear it. The consumption of tea, he said, was on the increase, and, measured in bulk, amounted to about 2,000 tons per annum, or about 10lbs. per head of the population.

Sir Percy Harris (Liberal), supporting the motion, said that the tax was originally an emergency one, but it could not now be justified on that ground.

Mr. Hore-Belisha (Financial Secretary to the Treasury), in declining to accept the amendment, said that the price of tea was actually lower to-day than it was before the duty was put on. The duty was imposed in 1932, not as a temporary measure but for revenue purposes, and to assist Empire growers with the preference.

The amendment was rejected by 265 votes to 43.

Mr. J. C. Wilmot (Labour) moved a new clause to restore the income tax allowances to the scale in existence before the Finance Act of 1931. The mere reduction of the standard rate by sixpence, he said, penalised the poor, whilst enriching the well-to-do.

Major Hills (Conservative) thought that there was a good case for the restoration of the allowances. All the prophets agreed that there would be a surplus at the end of the financial year, and the Chancellor could make the best use of it by restoring the allowances.

Mr. Hore-Belisha said that the Chancellor took the view that the psychological effect of the reduction in the standard rate of income tax would be greater and more widespread than the restoration of the allowances. The allowances were generous and the burden was exceedingly light.

Sir Stafford Cripps (Labour) said that the real criterion was not what a man was called upon to pay, but what he had left after he had paid.

The clause was rejected by 301 votes to 57.

Colonel Baldwin Webb (Conservative) moved a new clause to provide for the abolition of the entertainment tax on the 2d. and 6d. seats as from 6th November next. The cost to the Exchequer, he said, would be something like £1,700,000 in a full year.

Mr. Morgan Jones (for the Labour Party) expressed his entire approval with the proposal.

Mr. P. J. H. Hannon (Conservative) supported the clause in the interests of the poor people and children. Many of the pictures, he said, were of high educational value.

Miss F. Horsbrugh (Conservative) said that if the concession was not granted many of the cinemas in the distressed areas would have to close down.

Mr. Chamberlain said that he was unable to accept the clause. He had no prejudice against cinemas. His difficulty was purely one of money. "I am not promising now what I will do next year," he went on. "That must depend on conditions which obtain then. All I say now is that I consider this is at the top of the queue."

The new clause was rejected by 221 votes to 64.

The debate was adjourned, and the House rose at 12.4 a.m.

D'OYLY CARTE OPERA COMPANY.

"THE YEOMEN OF THE GUARD."

The D'Oyly Carte Opera Company began the second week of their season with a repeat performance of "The Yeomen of the Guard" at the Gaiety Theatre, Dublin, last night. The work was up to the excellent high standard one expects, and a well-filled house followed with real sympathy Gilbert and Sullivan's most affecting tale of "The Merryman and the Maid." Martyn Green was the Jack Point, and his characterisation of the part was splendid. With superb artistry he got through the mazes of the patter songs, and was especially effective in "I've Jibe and Quip" and "A Private Buffoon," whilst his tragic air in the closing scene was very realistic. Muriel Dickson again sang her way into all hearts as Elsie Maynard, and sharing the honours with her were Dorothy Gill, a dignified figure as Dame Carruthers, and Marjorie Eyre as the flirtatious Phœbe Meryll.

Richard Watson was commanding in speech and song as the Lieutenant of the Tower, and he was splendidly supported by Darrell Fancourt as Sergeant Meryll, whilst Sydney Granville was a droll figure as the lugubrious Wilfred Shadbolt, Head Jailer.

It was interesting to hear John Dean in the part of Colonel Fairfax. He played the part in fine manly style, and was very earnest and appealing in his two big songs, "Is Life a Boon" and "Free from His Fetters Grim."

In a sense there was more interest in the work of those in the smaller parts, as indicating the material which is in the making for the performance of these works in future days. Robert Wilson, who was First Yeoman last week, took on the small part of Leonard Meryll, and sang in quite taking style. The Dublin baritone, Samuel Mooney, who joined the company a few seasons ago, was quite good in the Yeoman part. His speaking voice was good and his singing both of the first and second parts was very easy and pleasant. Then there was Dorothy Kingston, very promising in the soprano part of the quartet, "Strange Adventure," and C. William Morgan and Perry Hughes playing the Citizens' parts effectively.

The general work of the chorus was first-rate, and the staging was excellent.

To-night, "Patience."

LONDON WEDDING.

MR. PAUL WILLERT AND THE HON. B. R. PEARSON.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

LONDON, Monday.

The wedding took place this afternoon at St. Mark's Church, North Audley street, London, W., of Mr. Paul Willert, only son of Sir Arthur and Lady Willert, of Headington Hall, Oxford, and the Hon. Brenda Ruby Pearson, fourth daughter of the late Viscount Cowdray and of Viscountess Cowdray, of Cowdray Park, Midhurst, Sussex.

The bride's sister is the wife of the Hon. John Hare, and the Earl and Countess of Listowel, Freda Countess of Listowel and Lady Elizabeth Hare were among the Irish guests present.

The Bishop of Chichester officiated with the Vicar of the Church, the Rev. W. G. Pennyman. There was a magnificent array of flowers of every garden variety now in bloom.

The bride was given away by her brother, Viscount Cowdray. She wore a perfectly plain gown of ivory satin, with the skirt lengthened to form a train. The bodice was simple, with gauging on the corsage, and it had long-fitting sleeves. A diamond tiara held her veil of ivory tulle, and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

There were five bridesmaids—the Hon. Daphne Pearson (the bride's younger sister), Miss Veronica Pearson (her cousin), Lady Patricia Hare, Miss Anne Loyd and Miss Nancy Malcolmson. Their frocks were of periwinkle blue chiffon, made with trains to the long skirts. The bodices had sleeves to the elbow, and at the waists were long sashes of the material. Their picture-hats of cream straw were trimmed with blue ribbons. They held sheaves of blue delphinium and flame-coloured gladioli.

Mr. James Carnegie acted as best man.

Lady Cowdray held a reception afterwards at 54 Mount street, her London home, where among her guests were Lady Willert the Hon. John and Mrs. Hare, the Hon. Eileen Brougham, the Marchioness of Donegall, Princess Isenburg, Lady Spring Rice, Mr. Anthony Spring Rice, the Hon. Mrs. Murrough O'Brien, Captain and Mrs. Dillon and Mrs. Ralph Bingham.

Five Japanese soldiers and two employés were killed and three other persons were wounded at Nanhutow, in Kirin Province, when fifty students of the Japanese Agricultural Institute at Chingpohu were attacked by bandits.

LONDON LETTER.

THE "BLACK SHIRTS."

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
MONDAY NIGHT.

The "Blackshirt" developments during the past few days are causing concern to the Government, and the Home Secretary, Sir John Gilmour, sent for Lord Trenchard this morning and had a long conversation with him before going on to Downing street for a meeting of Ministers. Later in the day in the House of Commons Sir John Gilmour said that scenes of disorder on the scale witnessed on Thursday last would not be tolerated. If they continued it might be necessary to arm the executive authority with further powers for preserving public order. The Government certainly were not prepared to allow their responsibility for the maintenance of order and free institutions to be usurped by any private or irresponsible body. This announcement was received with cheers from all parts of the House.

Lord Snowden's Return.

The political sensation of to-day is the definite announcement by Lord Snowden that he is returning to active politics. As a Peer his activity will be mainly confined to the House of Lords. He will be deprived, however, of the very great influence he possessed when he left the Government, since he can rank only as an independent Peer. The Labour Peers in the Upper House will not accept him as a leader, since they blame him more than anybody for the downfall of the Labour Party at the general election. It may be assumed, however, that Lord Snowden has no intention to offer himself for such a leadership. He has severed all ties with the Prime Minister, and in parliamentary circles it is thought that one of his first speeches will be an attack on Mr. Ramsay Macdonald for permitting the repeal of his project for the taxation of land values. This matter will shortly come before the House of Lords.

Mussolini and Hitler.

The conference to take place in Venice at the end of the week between Signor Mussolini and Herr Hitler will be watched with great interest by the diplomatic world. It may have important results, not only for Italy and Germany, but for the whole of Europe. Herr Hitler is to be accompanied by Baron von Neurath, the German Foreign Secretary, while Signor Mussolini will probably be unaccompanied. The German visitors will be housed in the Grand Hotel, an imposing building on the Grand Canal, but the discussions may take place at a more private centre on the mainland. Herr Hitler is to be in Italy for two or three days, and among the subjects likely to be discussed is the possibility of Germany resuming her place at the Disarmament Conference.

Hudson's Bay.

Mr. Patrick Ashley Cooper, Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, is to leave Euston to-morrow morning on a tour of ten thousand miles, to inspect the British fur trading posts in the Arctic regions of Canada. Before he leaves he will be presented with a wreath, to be cast into the waters of Hudson Bay, in memory of the pioneer, Henry Hudson, who perished there in 1611. Sir William Wayland, M.P., Chairman of the Empire Day Movement, will take part in the presentation of the wreath to-morrow. Mr. Ashley Cooper is the first Governor to go to Canada to carry out an inspection of the remote trading posts.

Mr. Churchill's Charges.

There is a growing demand that the full evidence taken before the Committee of Privileges in connection with Mr. Churchill's charges should be published. Although the Government is likely to resist the call, it is thought in political circles that the wisest course would be to yield, as it is highly improbable that the evidence can afford any handle to those who support Mr. Churchill. Mr. Lloyd George intends to be present in the House of Commons on Wednesday, and may speak on the subject.

Cardinal Bourne's Jubilee.

Westminster Cathedral was crowded to the doors this morning for the High Mass, when Cardinal Bourne celebrated the golden jubilee of his priesthood. The Service and the music were magnificent, and the Cardinal appeared to be in good health and spirits. Among the many distinguished people present were Mr. J. W. Dulanty, the High Commissioner of the Free State, accompanied by several members of his staff. After the Service the Cardinal, who is the son of a Dublin woman, went to the balcony of the Archbishop's house adjoining the Cathedral, and gave the Papal Benediction to several hundred people kneeling in the roadway. It was from this balcony during the War that Cardinal Mercier gave his famous speech, concluding with the words "God save Ireland," and was greeted with enthusiastic cheers. These cheers were repeated to-day when the Cardinal received a great ovation at the hands of his co-religionists, all of whom greatly esteem their Archbishop.

The Vegetable Market.

The Standing Committee of the Central Chamber of Agriculture will present a report to the meeting of the Chamber on Thursday, which may have a good effect on the industry. It shows that, as a result of the duties imposed on foreign vegetables, British growers are able to supply all the requirements of the home market in a great number of vegetables, and, where there is still some small importation, it is likely to disappear gradually as the home producers become fully efficient suppliers of their own market. In regard to onions, the imports in the past three years have exceeded ten million bushels every year; the value in 1932 was £1,800,000, and in 1933 £1,240,000. The report suggests that there is a good case for an increase in the existing duty for this vegetable, since it is estimated that some twenty thousand acres would be required to supply the total amount coming into the country. Britain imports £300,000 worth of lettuce a year, and the producers are urged to capture this market by growing under glass in the winter and spring.

New Japanese Aeroplanes.

Japan does not intend to linger behind in the great race for air armament, and her army has just taken delivery of a batch of fighting aeroplanes, said to be the fastest in service in any air force in the world. The new machines are low-wing monoplanes, able to develop a speed of 250 miles an hour. It is notable that these machines are of Japanese design and construction, and have been built in the country. Japan is thus the first country whose air force has been equipped with types of so great a speed, and the fact is considered all the more remarkable because until recently Japanese military aeroplanes were deficient in speed, as compared with European types. In this country a type has been developed with a speed of 250 miles an hour, but it is not yet in production for distribution to Royal Air Force squadrons.

NOT TO PAY WAR DEBTS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, Monday.

Belgium and Czechoslovakia have officially informed the United States that they intend defaulting on their War debt payments to the United States, due on June 15th.

TOWNS WIPED OUT BY FLOOD.

CENTRAL AMERICAN STORM HAVOC.

DEATH ROLL EXCEEDS 2,500.

DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT £600,000.

MORE than 2,500 casualties have occurred in the Central American States of San Salvador and Honduras.

Following upon a serious hurricane in San Salvador, in which 2,000 casualties are feared, news was received yesterday that the town of Ocotopeque, in Honduras, had been wiped out, and that 500 persons had been drowned as the result of a flood.

This town is one of the places which, reports from San Salvador stated, had been struck by a windstorm last week.

Pan-American Airways have informed Reuter that they have received advices from San Salvador that a minimum of 2,000 casualties is feared as a result of the hurricane which has been raging there in the last few days.

Aeroplanes flying over the stricken regions report that the section surrounding the Lempa River and the Pacific Coast, from La Libertad to La Union, are suffering from serious avalanches from the sides of a volcano. Rising floods have wiped out entire towns.

A steamship, whose name is not known, has sunk at the mouth of the Lempa River. Bodies have been seen floating near the wreck.

It is feared that epidemics will break out in isolated sections unless sanitation is attended to and medical aid sent.

The "New York Times" learns that in the town of Santo Thomas 70 per cent. of the dwellings have been demolished. Aguacaliente is reported to have disappeared, with 250 inhabitants, as a result of a landslide.

The town of Panchimalco has been destroyed, and the highway to La Libertad has been rendered impassable, and great sections swept away. The harbour is littered with débris, and all landing facilities have been demolished.

The total loss for the country is estimated at six million colones (about £600,000).

THE OLYMPIA DISTURBANCE.

FASCIST ACTION CRITICISED.

HOME SECRETARY'S WARNING.

IN the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Anstruther-Gray (Conservative) asked the Prime Minister whether, in view of the fact that unnecessary violence, such as that shown by persons wearing political uniforms at Olympia on June 7, would inevitably provoke retaliation, the Government would give an early date for the discussion of measures to avert this menace to public order and political good-will.

Mr. Ramsay Macdonald replied that the matter could be raised on the appropriate vote on a supply day.

HOME SECRETARY'S STATEMENT.

Replying to members who had questions on the paper in reference to the disturbance at the Fascist demonstration at Olympia on Thursday evening last, the Home Secretary (Sir John Gilmour) said: Early in May it was announced that a meeting organised by the British Union of Fascists was to be held at Olympia on the 7th inst., and would be addressed by Sir Oswald Mosley. The Commissioner of Police subsequently received information that the Communist Party of Great Britain proposed to make a counter-demonstration, such counter-demonstration to take the form of organised opposition inside Olympia and a monster demonstration outside Olympia. In the light of this information it became the duty of the Commissioner to make adequate arrangements to carry out the responsibilities that fall on the police on occasions of this character.

On the present occasion the British Union of Fascists informed the Commissioner that the Fascists did not require the assistance of the police inside the meeting, and at no stage was any request made that the police should enter the meeting. On one occasion, however, a small party of uniformed police entered the precincts of Olympia, but not the meeting itself, on being informed that there was a man who required attention.

The Police Commissioner took the necessary steps for controlling the traffic and the crowd in the vicinity of Olympia, both before and during the meeting, and arranged for a number of foot and mounted police to be kept ready in reserve. In all, about 750 police were detailed for this purpose, and, in view of what took place at Olympia, I think it will be agreed that the precautions of the Commissioner were in no sense excessive.

DISTURBANCES INSIDE.

As regards the disturbance inside Olympia, I have already explained that the police were not called in to the meeting, and I have nothing to add to the very full accounts which have already appeared in the Press. Allegations have been made by responsible eye-witnesses that assaults were committed by Fascist stewards in ejecting interrupters, but as the law does not allow undue violence to be used, and as the question of whether unnecessary force was used may come before the Courts, it might not be proper for me to make any comment on these allegations. I think, however, I ought to point out that hitherto the advice as regards police action has been based on the assumption that the stewards of a meeting, in dealing with interrupters, will act without undue violence, and will themselves avoid illegal acts. If this assumption is found to be unwarranted as regards meetings organised by any organisation, the whole question of police action inside such meetings will have to be reviewed.

DISORDERLY CROWDS.

As regards what took place outside Olympia, the Commissioner informs me that while the meeting was assembling considerable numbers of persons collected outside the building, and that it was necessary to clear the approaches to the hall. Throughout the duration of the meeting crowds remained in the road adjacent to Olympia, and at times became disorderly. During the course of the evening twenty-three persons were arrested by the police on charges of assault, obstructing the police, and using insulting words and behaviour; but I am informed that there were no baton charges by the foot police, though on one occasion a party of four mounted police drew their truncheons, but did not use them.

During the disturbances outside Olympia two constables and one woman were assaulted in the street and received slight injuries. It is known that a number of persons were injured inside the meeting, but the police are not aware of the number of persons so injured, though ten persons are known to have received treatment at neighbouring hospitals for injuries believed to have been sustained during the disturbances inside Olympia. Order was finally restored soon after midnight.

"CANNOT BE TOLERATED."

I am sure I am voicing the feeling of this House, and of the country as a whole, when I say that scenes of disorder on the scale which we have recently witnessed cannot be tolerated—(cheers)—and, if they continue, it may be necessary to arm the executive authorities with further powers for the purpose of preserving public order.

I am not concerned to-day to apportion blame between the Fascists and the Communists. It is the function of the Government to preserve law and order. They would be failing in their duty if they allowed any faction, either of the Right or of the Left, to disturb the public peace, and they are certainly not prepared to allow their responsibilities for the maintenance of order and the preservation of our free institutions to be usurped by any private and irresponsible body, no matter what may be their avowed aims or objects. (Cheers.)

Mr. W. Thorne (Labour) asked was it not evident that the reason why Sir Oswald Mosley did not require police inside Olympia was that they had hundreds of men inside, the majority armed with some very dangerous implements? Did the Home Secretary not think that in consequence of the declared ultimate aim and object of this Association it should be declared illegal in exactly the same way as the Land League was declared illegal in Ireland?

Mr. Anstruther Gray (Conservative) called attention to the meeting of Fascists to be held at the White City on the Sunday before the August Bank Holiday, and asked what steps would be taken to prevent disturbances and casualties there?

Sir John Gilmour, replying to these and other questions, said—I think I have made it sufficiently clear that the view of the Government is that a repetition of the kind of behaviour which has recently taken place cannot be tolerated. (Cheers.) I am sure it is in the interests of every party in this country that our meetings should be orderly. When there are organised demonstrations there are powers to deal with them. All I want to say, from the police point of view, is that they try to take no part. The police duty is to keep order, and I have no reason to think they did not do so on this occasion.

MOTION FOR ADJOURNMENT REFUSED.

Mr. Vyvyan Adams (Conservative)—Without wishing to imply any criticism of the Home Secretary's answers, I beg leave to move the adjournment of the House on a definite matter of urgent public importance. The terms of the motion are:—"To call attention to the violence accompanying the Fascist meeting at Olympia on Thursday, June 7th."

The Speaker—I am afraid that motion hardly complies with the Standing Order, if for no other reason than that it is not definite. I cannot allow it.

Mr. M. Beaumont (Conservative) said that, in view of the importance of the matter, he would raise it on the adjournment at an early date.

DEBATE FIXED FOR THURSDAY.

The House of Commons on Thursday next will discuss Fascist activities and disorder at public meetings. The estimates for the Ministry of Health had been put down for Thursday. After hearing the Home Secretary's statement yesterday, however, the Liberal opposition, who have the right to nominate supply business for that day, demanded the substitution of Home Office business. The Government agreed, and, accordingly, the scenes at Olympia will be discussed.

Mr. Michael Beaumont and a number of other Conservatives have tabled the following motion "for an early day":—

"That, in the opinion of this House, all political parties in this country, whatever their views, should be assured of freedom to put their case before the public without being subjected to organised attacks and interruptions, whether inside or outside the place of meeting."

ARMED RAIDS IN KERRY.

WOMAN'S PLUCKY STAND.

CAPTURES WEAPON FROM INTRUDERS.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

LISTOWEL, Monday.

A SERIES of raids by masked and armed men took place in the early hours of Sunday morning on the homes of Blue Shirts in the townlands of Drommerrin and Gortnamincha.

In many cases houses were entered, and in one there was a struggle, in which an elderly woman with her two young sons beat off the raiders and captured a revolver and other weapons.

The district, about two miles from Listowel, is a Blue Shirt stronghold. It is an area of small farms and bogland.

Denis Buckley, a youth of about 19, told me to-day how he and his brother were awakened at about two a.m. yesterday morning, to find eight or nine armed and masked men, some with rifles and others carrying revolvers or batons. The youths, who live with their widowed mother, Mrs. Margaret Buckley, at Gortnamincha, were pulled from bed and kicked and beaten by the raiders, who said that they would not leave the house without getting their blue shirts.

Having failed to drag the Buckleys from the house the party went off, taking with them three blue shirts, and threatening that any one of them who would wear the garb in future would be "plugged." The Buckleys were unable to put up any great resistance, as they had no weapons of defence, and were surprised whilst asleep.

Edward Murphy, of Drommerrin, told how he was awakened by the tramp of marching men and, looking out, saw about thirty men approaching the house in military formation. Suspecting that a raid was intended, and having no means of defence, he and his brothers hastily dressed and, taking their blue shirts with them, concealed themselves in a ditch until daybreak.

PLUCKY WIDOW.

A surprise, however, was in store for the raiders at the home of Mrs. Bridget Dillon, of Drommerrin. Mrs. Dillon is a woman of frail physique, but, with her sons, John and Edward, youths of 20 and 19 years, she made a desperate resistance, and while struggling with the intruders was felled by a severe blow in the face from a revolver. She, however, dragged her assailant to the ground with her. The fight raged in and out of the house, and while John succeeded in wresting a revolver from one of the masked men. Edward got on the stairs and called out, "Stand back, mother, till I fire." He was quite unarmed, but the ruse succeeded and the raiders immediately fled in great disorder, leaving behind them a revolver, four batons, a walking stick, three caps and the three shirts which they had taken from the Buckleys.

The two young Dillons immediately sallied out in pursuit, but the raiders fled with great rapidity.

The Civic Guards took possession of these articles and have been busy all day in investigating the occurrences. Early arrests are expected.

The local District Director of the League of Youth, discussing the raids to-day, said that raids and assaults on Blue Shirts had been happening for months past. A month ago, he said, an elderly farmer, Mr. Christopher Somers, defended his home from an armed gang numbering about fifty, and used a sweeping brush with such good effect that one of the raiders was knocked unconscious and had to be carried away by his companions. His young son, Jack, had grappled with another and tore the rifle from him, and when he attempted to use this weapon the whole gang had fled in panic.

A week ago, he added, a cycle parade of Blue Shirts was attacked at Blake's Cross by about 50 or 60 men, but the Blue Shirts, dismounting, scattered the attackers and chased them across country.

BURIAL OF DELIUS TO-DAY.

TRANSFER TO ENGLAND LATER.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

GREZ-SUR-LOING, Monday.

The burial of Frederick Delius, the British composer, who died yesterday, will take place to-morrow evening in the strictest privacy.

He will be laid in a temporary vault in the local cemetery of this quiet little village, where he has lived for the last 35 years.

Later the body will be transferred to England; but the date of this transfer will not be known for some time, as Mrs. Delius, who is seriously ill after a recent operation, is too weak and prostrate with grief to come to any decision at present.

A TELEVISION THEATRE.

TO SHOW IRISH EVENTS.

The first television theatre in the world will be opened next month at Blackpool, says the Evening Standard. The theatre will hold three thousand people, and the programme, which will be thrown on a screen twenty feet square, will comprise events taking place in England and Ireland screened by a portable apparatus and transmitted by land line to the studios.

Studios have been secured in the Free State and are being equipped with directional transmitters.

If the experiment is successful, it is proposed to link up a chain of cinemas all over the country.

The members of the British Government Committee on Television will visit the theatre.

AUSTRALIA ON TOP.

POSITION AT END OF THIRD DAY.

Australia—1st innings	374
England—1st innings	268
Australia—2nd innings (for 3)	159

At the end of the third day's play in the first Test match at Nottingham yesterday Australia held a commanding position over England and finished up 265 runs ahead, with seven wickets to fall, in their second innings. Thanks to a great stand of 101 for the seventh wicket by Hendren and Geary, England saved the follow-on despite the early failure of the Nawab of Pataudi and Ames, but the tail collapsed, the last four wickets falling for 2 runs.

Australia began their second innings badly, losing Woodfull, Ponsford and Bradman for 69 runs, but Brown and McCabe added 90 without being separated, McCabe showing the best batting of the match so far in his 74.

RAILWAY WAGES.

SETTLEMENT PROPOSALS.

CASE OF CLERICAL GRADES.

THE wages problem on the Great Southern Railways is, it is understood, nearing solution, and an agreement ending on December 31, 1935, is awaiting signature.

It is stated in well-informed circles that the unions' view that the wage reduction should be 7½ per cent. on basic wages on the Great Southern Railways, as against 10 per cent. on the other Irish lines, has prevailed, and the agreement will be signed on this basis.

The additional 2½ per cent. which is being paid on the Great Southern Line was claimed by the three unions on the grounds that this system is in a better financial position than the Northern and cross-border railways.

Under the proposed settlement the clerical grades will receive 2½ per cent. increase in the rates at which they were working since the strike last year. This increase is in accordance with the arrangement made at the end of the dispute and was put into operation from May 1 pending the outcome of the present negotiations. The other grades will remain at their present rates.

A representative of the company yesterday declined to confirm the statement that the proposals had been ratified by both sides, and stated that the question was still in the process of negotiation.

The trade unions concerned are the National Union of Railwaymen, Railway Clerks' Association, and Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen.

COLLECTION OF RATES.

DRASTIC ACTION FORESHADOWED.

NEW COMMISSIONER'S HINT.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

WATERFORD, Monday.

AN important statement was made to the Press to-day by Mr. Moynihan, the newly-appointed Commissioner for County Waterford. Mr. Moynihan took the place of the County Council's representatives at the monthly meeting of the Waterford Mental Hospital to-day. He said:—

"The dissolution of Waterford County Council and my appointment as Commissioner was due principally to the disgraceful state of the rate collections in the county. I intend to concentrate for the present on the collection of the rates, and in this connection I would warn defaulters that most active steps are about to be taken to collect the rates. Waterford, in comparison to other counties, is a rich county, yet its rate collection is the third lowest in the Free State. The fact that there is economic depression among the farming community here, as elsewhere, is no excuse for the non-payment of the first charge on the land, and certainly, in my opinion, the person who refuses to pay his rates and shelters behind those who are bearing the burden of the county's services should be regarded as a public enemy. Many defaulters are apparently the dupes of irresponsible people, who have been advising them not to pay their rates. This campaign, I am glad to say, is dying out, and many of those who are loudest in advising other people to default are discovered to have safeguarded themselves by having paid their own rates, or who are now paying them.

"I trust," he continued, "defaulting ratepayers in the county will see the folly of adding additional responsibility to their burdens and discharge their liability promptly. Drastic action is about to be taken to clear off arrears, and defaulters may find themselves with very heavy additional costs added to arrears outstanding."

SEVEN DEAD IN AIR CRASH.

WELL-KNOWN WAR PILOT LOST.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

NEWARK, Monday.

The American Airways liner which was lost in the Catskill Mountains, has been found destroyed by fire, according to information received by the American Air Lines. All the occupants are dead.

Among those on board the liner was the veteran pilot, Clyde Holbrook, renowned for his record during the World War.

Hundreds of searchers combed the wooded slopes in difficult conditions of alternating storm and fog. The entire force of the State Conservation Department, including Rangers, game wardens and State troops, systematically advanced through the mountains, once the lair of the gangster, Jack Diamond. Scores of aeroplanes also took part in the search.

Faint hopes that the airmen might still be alive were raised last night when what looked like a white light, exhibited at the tope of Black Dome, one of the most precipitous mountains in the Catskills, was reported by one of the police searchers. When daylight came aerial observers saw only a party of wood-cutters going to work in the mountains. It was, doubtless, their camp fire that was seen and not a signal from the airmen.

An aeroplane carrying six passengers, which was flying to Santiago de Chile, crashed at Lake Marchiquita, says a Buenos Aires message.

Two men and a woman lost their lives. The three other passengers were injured and have been taken to hospital.

TWO KILLED.

Two airmen were killed and two others, including an officer, were seriously injured when a French military bomber carrying out night exercises crashed on the roof of a house at Chartres late last evening.

NEW ATLANTIC FLIGHT.

FROM ROME, VIA DUBLIN.

The Atlantic flyers, Commodore George Pond and Lieutenant Cesare Sabelli, reached Rome last evening. They left Lympne, England, at 11 a.m. and had a non-stop flight.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

ROME, Monday.

A return Atlantic flight to New York via Dublin in the near future was announced this evening by Commodore Pond and Lieutenant Sabelli, following their arrival from Lympne.

THE DISSOLVED COUNCILS.

QUESTIONS IN DAIL TO-DAY.

PUNISHING THE RATEPAYERS.

VOTE ON PRESIDENT'S DEPARTMENT.

BY OUR POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT.

AT question time in the Dail to-day the Minister for Local Government (Mr. Seán T. O'Kelly) will be interrogated by Mr. P. S. Doyle and Mr. Desmond Fitzgerald as to whether he intends to include Leix and Kilkenny in the counties which will elect new County Councils on the 26th of the present month. If not he will be asked to state the reason why these elections will not take place, and by what statutory authority they are prevented.

In these counties the existing councils have been dissolved and Commissioners appointed in their place. Waterford and South Tipperary are in a similar position. Whatever may be the law on the subject—and this seems a matter of some doubt—it would appear to be only fair to the ratepayers in these counties that they should be given an opportunity of selecting a new council in the same way as other counties are doing during the present month. It is argued that it is not reasonable to punish the ratepayers for the faults of the dissolved councils, whatever they may have been, and disfranchise them for a period of three years, which is the full time for which a Commissioner can be appointed.

All the councils which go out of office this month have been in office for six years. The normal period for which a council is elected is three years, but for various reasons the elections which should have taken place three years ago were postponed by a special Act. In the case of the four counties whose councils are now dissolved it may possibly be nine years from the date of the last election before they have an opportunity of electing new representatives.

CIRCUIT COURT WORK.

Mr. John Good will ask the Minister for Justice what is the number of cases awaiting trial in the Dublin Circuit Courts; whether any cases are more than six months awaiting trial, and what steps he will take to clear up arrears.

VOTE FOR PRESIDENT'S DEPARTMENT.

President de Valera will to-day continue his speech in reply to the criticisms of his Department made during the debate last week. The President was still speaking when the House rose on Friday afternoon. He was not actually concluding the debate, and it is understood that Deputy Mulcahy and others, who then desired to speak, will do so to-day.

Following the debate on the President's Department the estimates for the Department of External Affairs and the League of Nations will be taken. President de Valera will reply for both of these. These debates will occupy most of the sitting.

THE SENATE.

In the Senate to-morrow Mr. S. Brown will move four amendments to the Fisheries (Tidal Waters) Bill.

DISAPPEARANCE OF DIPLOMAT.

JAPANESE WARSHIPS STANDING BY.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

TOKIO, Monday.

Considerable anxiety is felt over the disappearance in Nanking of Mr. E. Kuramoto, the Japanese Vice-Consul there, who is generally believed to have been kidnapped last Friday by Chinese political terrorists.

Two Japanese warships are now, it is stated, standing off Nanking by way of precaution against emergency. A third Japanese warship has been ordered to Nanking, and is expected to arrive there to-morrow.

The Japanese colony in Nanking are demanding that the Japanese authorities should try to seek a fundamental settlement of the case, which, they declare, is the result of undue pressure recently brought by Chinese officials to bear upon Japanese residents.

Mr. Shen Chinting, Chief of the Far Eastern Affairs Bureau of the Foreign Office, called to-day on Mr. Suma, the Japanese Consul-General in Nanking, and expressed the regret of the Chinese Government.

The Chinese authorities have offered a reward of 5,000 dollars (£300) for information leading to the discovery of Mr. Kuramoto. A further reward of 10,000 dollars is offered for his actual discovery.

JUNIOR TOURIST TROPHY.

J. GUTHRIE WINS AT "RECORD" SPEED.

J. Guthrie, who recently won the Leinster "Two Hundred" and North-West "Two Hundred," finished first in the Junior Tourist Trophy Motor Cycle Race in the Isle of Man yesterday. His speed was 79 m.p.h., and he had a lap at 80.11 m.p.h., these both being "records."

A Belfast man, W. Rusk, was seventh, and C. H. W. Manders, of Dublin, was fourteenth. Rusk had plug and Manders clutch trouble. Stanley Woods did not start, and the other Irish rider, H. G. Tyrell Smith, retired owing to his machine being damaged in a fall.

[The race is reported in our sporting pages.]

MR. DE VALERA AND THE BLUE SHIRTS.

OTTAWA REFERENCE CHALLENGED.

Speaking at the William Rooney branch of the United Ireland Party (West Clontarf), at 5 Parnell square, Dublin, last night, Mr. Richard Mulcahy, T.D., referred to the statement made by Mr. de Valera at Ennis on Sunday last to the effect that Mr. Thomas had said to the Free State Ministers at Ottawa: "We need not settle with you. You will be settled when the Blue Shirts get under way." He (Mr. Mulcahy) stated that the Free State Ministers were in Ottawa in August, 1932, and the Blue Shirts did not appear until the following summer, twelve months afterwards. "This statement of Mr. de Valera," he said, "deserves to rank with the Glasgow lie."

Later, addressing the Dick McKee branch of the party (Arran quay), Mr. Mulcahy said that the abolition by the Government of the County Councils of Leix, Kilkenny, Waterford, Offaly and South Tipperary was just a piece of political thuggery.

BIG DAY IN IRISH COURTS.

IMPORTANT JUDGMENTS.

LIBEL CASE RESULT.

COURT business in the Free State capital yesterday provided a busy time for judges, lawyers and officials.

In the High Court, Mr. Justice O'Byrne and a jury awarded £750 damages to Mrs. Hannah Sheehy-Skeffington, widow of the late Francis Sheehy-Skeffington (who was shot in the 1916 rebellion), in respect of a libel published in a Catholic journal. An article in the paper stated that Mrs. Skeffington received a pension from the British Government as compensation for the death of her husband. (Full report on Page 5.)

In the High Court also, Mr. Justice O'Byrne granted an application made by Mr. Vincent Rice, K.C., for relief by way of habeas corpus and prohibition, in respect of four persons—Colonel Jeremiah Ryan, Hubert Johnston, John Harty, and James Cantwell, all of Co. Tipperary, who are at present awaiting trial by the Military Tribunal. (Full report on Page 5.)

In the Central Criminal Court, before Mr. Justice Hanna and a jury, two men, one from Louth and the other from Armagh, were sentenced to three years' penal servitude for holding up a Dundalk motorist in the approved gangster method, and, at the point of the revolver, compelling him to drive them across the border. (Full report on Page 2.)

In addition to legal decisions made through the usual channels of justice, the Military Tribunal, sitting at Collins Barracks, sentenced three Tipperary men on charges relating to a raid on a house near Cashel. (Full report on Page 2.)

NORTHERN SENATE VACANCY.

THE CANDIDATES.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

BELFAST, Monday.

There will be a by-election for the vacancy in the Northern Ireland Senate created by the resignation of Mr. T. J. Campbell, K.C., who was recently elected to the Northern Ireland Parliament to succeed the late Mr. Joseph Devlin as member for Central Belfast.

The members of the Senate are elected by the members of Parliament by the proportional representation system.

The Unionist M.P.'s are putting forward Mr. John C. Glendinning, of Derry, who was a former member of the Senate, and as they have a large majority it is expected that Mr. Glendinning will be elected.

The Nationalist members, one of whom recently suggested that the Unionists should permit a Nationalist to succeed a Nationalist in view of the fact that they have only four members in the Senate, to-day selected Mr. Charles Magee, of Newry, as the Nationalist candidate. This selection caused some surprise in political circles in Belfast, as it was generally anticipated that a local Nationalist would be put forward.

The nominations will take place to-morrow, and the election will be fixed for nine days later.

FROM "THE TIMES."

(BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT.)

THE CASE AGAINST FORTY HOURS.

The Times observes in a leading article to-day:—The reasoned opposition of the British Government to the proposed Forty-Hour Week Convention, which is before the International Labour Conference, is misunderstood, and is being misrepresented. Since the publication of the White Paper setting out the Government's arguments there is no excuse for the misrepresentation, but it persists. Mr. Leggett's speech at Geneva last week again put the British case clearly and forcibly, and the Conference can be under no illusion about the consequences, as this country sees them, of the measure to which it is now definitely committed. The Convention, as it is framed, must operate to the detriment of the most advanced industrial countries. Like several other acts of the International Labour Office, it would not apply everywhere with equal effect, and it would confer competitive privilege upon the backward countries. The Convention proposes a reduction of hours of work, and is silent about earnings.

Even if it stipulated that the shorter week should be introduced without a reduction of earnings, the scales of competition would be weighted against the high-wage countries, and the intentional absence of any safeguard for wages means that a high-wage country, like Great Britain, with its well organised work people, would suffer immeasurably from the inequality of conditions. It is simply useless to pass a separate recommendation based upon the opinion that any reduction in the purchasing power of workers would tend to reduce demand, and would lead to further unemployment, when most of the Governments that approve of a Convention have already made known their opposition to the inclusion of a condition concerning wages. Such a condition would undoubtedly have wrecked the Convention, and the lack of it must be taken as a warning that when the reduction of working time is made wages must, sooner or later, find a new level.

INCIDENTS IN MALTA.

ITALIAN TOURISTS' DEMONSTRATION.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

MALTA, Monday.

The singing of the Fascist hymn, "Giovinezza," by some 50 Italian tourists in front of Malta's monument to those who fell in the great siege of 1565, caused great indignation here this afternoon.

After the hymn the tourists burst out with cries of "Viva Mussolini," at the same time clapping their hands loudly. The incident took place in front of the police headquarters in the Strada Reale. The police did not intervene.

Following the incident three different Maltese citizens lodged a report with the police regarding another occurrence of a similar nature.

A group of Italian tourists, it is alleged, stopped a batch of Maltese school children in the street. After dilating on the greatness of Italy, one of the tourists is said to have removed his Fascist badge and pinned it on the breast of a Maltese boy.

Addressing the other children, the tourist then declared: "What is wanted in Malta is Mussolini," and enjoined them always to support him.

SPEECHES OF WEEK-END.

GENERAL O'DUFFY REPLIES.

THE REPUBLIC "BOGEY."

BIG DUN LAOGHAIRE MEETING.

GENERAL O'DUFFY replied to some of the week-end speeches of Fianna Fail Ministers when he spoke at a United Ireland Party meeting in the Town Hall, Dun Laoghaire, last night.

They had not heard much of the Republic from Fianna Fail in the last couple of years, he said. It was only when the elections came along that the Republic was taken out of the cupboard, and de Valera, finding himself in a corner, now said: "Hit me now and the Republic in my arms."

The meeting was in support of candidates for the forthcoming County Council and borough elections. Mr. Edward Gibbons presided, and stated that the organisation was putting forward six candidates for the Dublin County Council and eleven for the Dun Laoghaire Borough Corporation.

The hall was crowded, and the speeches were conveyed to the thousands assembled in the streets by means of loud speakers.

One of the candidates, Senator Duggan, who was announced as a signatory of the Treaty, said that the electors had now an opportunity to take up de Valera's challenge, and show him that he had no authority in their name to ruin the only industry existing in this country until at least other industries had been created to take its place.

General O'Duffy, attired in a blue shirt and a dark cap of the volunteer force pattern, and preceded by a flag-bearers, arrived on the platform and gave the Blue Shirt salute.

"FOR IRELAND ALONE."

He said that it was worth the long journey from Youghal to receive such a reception. All the way from Cork he brought them good news, and that was that Fianna Fail was beaten to a frazzle. In reply to Mr. MacEntee's speech at Fermoy, he would say to all genuine republicans that United Ireland was for Ireland, and Ireland alone, and that unemployment benefit, doles and free milk must be continued by any Government until they had brought back to the people of this country their former pride and independence by getting them decent work.

Referring to promises of pensions for the I.R.A., General O'Duffy said his party would extend the Act so as to include those men who had helped their country, and that those who had helped to shoot down their fellow-countrymen would be excluded.

The United Ireland policy was to help the agricultural workers and the town workers and shopkeepers by restoring the agricultural community to the comparative prosperity which they had enjoyed up to a few years ago. The workingman was not for sale, and there was no Fascism in the country. Mr. Ruttledge, speaking in Mayo, had said that the official numbers of the Blue Shirt organisation was only 22,000. That was not so bad, but probably Mr. Ruttledge was thinking of the County Mayo only. He had looked up the figures, and the Blue Shirt strength was, roughly, 66,000 men, 40,000 women and 20,000 boys and girls. Any "dud," no matter how cowardly, might join the I.R.A., but up to now it had taken a damn good man to join the Blue Shirts.

Why, he asked Mr. Ruttledge, were the I.R.A. not being mopped up now? It was because they had the protection of the Government. There were decent, good citizens in the I.R.A., and when Fine Gael formed a Government they would not mop up the I.R.A., but would ask the I.R.A. to become good citizens.

MR. COSTELLO, T.D.

Mr. J. A. Costello, K.C., T.D., said that his party was satisfied, even if the Senate had passed their Local Government Electors Bill, that they would have had sufficient strength to win for the Fine Gael Party. His party was not afraid of universal suffrage. De Valera had said that he would not be a statesman if there were gunboats in Cobh. How different was it when General O'Duffy, who had handed over to the State one of the most perfect State machines, which the present Government had been using for the last two years.

Mr. H. M. Dockrell, T.D., said that the present Government, in its economic war, in order to get out of paying five millions per annum to England, was now paying, at a very moderate estimate, over ten millions. That was not good business, and was not good policy.

Mr. J. P. McCabe, a candidate, said that this was their country, not Mr. de Valera's.

Mr. Jack Corr, candidate for Dublin County Council, said that he hoped the Minister for Finance as the result of these elections, would get the notice to quit, and would quit.

After the meeting there was a scuffle or two in the crowd. The Civic Guards drew batons, and the street was cleared without further disturbance.

ACTIVITY OF THIRD INTERNATIONAL.

PROPAGANDA AMONG BRITISH TROOPS.

Mr. Duff-Cooper (Financial Secretary to the War Office), in the House of Commons yesterday, informed Major-General Sir Alfred Knox (Conservative) that he was aware that the Third International in Moscow was carrying on seditious propaganda among the armed forces of the Crown. It would not be in the public interest to disclose the information which was in his possession on this matter. Action could only be taken when there was sufficient evidence to show that a breach of the law had taken place.

DETAINED MAN LIBERATED.

On the order of the Crown, Alexander Donald, hairdresser, Urquhart road, Aberdeen, was yesterday liberated from prison at Aberdeen, where he had been detained since April 26th in connection with the death of Helen Wilson Robertson Priestly, aged eight, on April 20th or 21st. The girl was found dead in a sack.

GOLDEN JUBILEE CELEBRATION.

IMPRESSIVE SCENES IN LONDON.

CARDINAL BOURNE ACCLAIMED.

POMP and splendour were seen in Westminster Cathedral yesterday, when thousands of Catholics joined in celebrating the golden jubilee as a priest of Cardinal Bourne, Archbishop of Westminster. Canons, bishops, priests and monks, nuns and laity filled the cathedral, and some people, including women, had to stand throughout the ceremony.

A message from the Pope congratulating the Cardinal led a host of other telegrams and letters of good wishes from Catholics in all parts of the world.

Mounted and foot police were on duty to control the crowds which watched two great processions file into the cathedral for the celebration of Pontifical High Mass of Thanksgiving, which was sung by Bishop Butt, auxiliary bishop of the diocese.

The Cardinal was received at the cathedral door by Bishop Myers and the priests of the Chapter.

The main body of the cathedral was filled with priests and monks of every Order. There were Franciscans, Dominicans and Carmelites, and nuns of various orders, including Little Sisters of the Poor, with their tall white headdress, and Sisters of Mercy.

THE POPE'S MESSAGE.

In his message the Pope addressed Cardinal Bourne as follows:—

> "Our beloved son, Francis Bourne—It is with great joy that we learned that you were to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of your ordination, because the commemoration of this happy event provides us with a most suitable opportunity to declare once again our love and esteem for you and of associating ourselves paternally with the happiness you yourself so justly experience on this occasion."

His Holiness expressed the warmest wishes that the Cardinal would be restored to full health, and asked him to bestow the Papal blessing on those who attended the Service.

After the celebration of High Mass, Cardinal Bourne and a procession of clergy went to the Archbishop's house. Then came the most striking scene of all. Thousands of men and women assembled outside the house to receive the Cardinal's blessing. Round the door were mounted and foot police to control the thousands of people who filled the streets from end to end. Balconies were decorated with the gold and white Papal colours, and from the windows and roofs of adjoining houses men and women, the latter with bared heads, stood waiting for the Cardinal.

There was a burst of cheering, and hats, gloves and handkerchiefs were thrown in the air when the white-haired Cardinal, still in crimson robes, appeared on the decorated balcony of the Archbishop's house. He raised his hand for silence, and, although he spoke softly, his words could be heard right down the street.

CHEERING CROWD.

"I thank you," he said, simply, "for your prayers during my recent long illness. I want you to continue with those prayers. I need them."

He thanked all those who had congratulated him, and who had sent him good wishes.

"I have received a lot of letters," he said. "Some of which I have not yet been able to read, there are so many of them. I know how widespread the messages of good-will have been, and I thank all who have sent them. I hope soon to be able to answer them. Now, I will bless you."

The thousands of people knelt reverently in the street as the Cardinal, raising his hand, sang in Latin the blessing of the Pope.

When he had finished the crowd rose and cheered the Cardinal again and again.

MOTOR CYCLING ACCIDENTS.

TWO MEN INJURED.

Mr. David Butler (21), son of the Rev. J. W. Butler, Rector of Thomastown, Co. Kilkenny, was thrown from his motor cycle when returning from Ballyadams, Leix, and sustained severe injuries to his head and body.

His condition is reported to be very critical.

While motor cycling from the direction of Kilkenny to Rathdowney, George Stanley, aged about 30 years, collided with a motor car in the vicinity of Clomanta and sustained injuries to his head and face. The injured man regained consciousness, and is progressing as favourably as could be expected.

SHOTS AT HOUSE DURING DANCE.

OUTRAGE NEAR BALLINALEE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

LONGFORD, Monday.

Last night, as a dance under United Ireland Party auspices was in progress at Aughaward, near Ballinalee, the house was attacked by gunfire. It is stated that twelve or fourteen shots were fired. Nobody was injured. Civic Guards are investigating the outrage.

DUBLIN DOCKYARD DISPUTE.

Representatives of the Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Shipbuilders and Constructional Workers interviewed officials of the Department of Industry and Commerce yesterday in regard to the Dublin Dockyard dispute, but the parties were not again brought together in conference.

A representative of the Union stated last night that certain proposals had been put forward and that these would be placed before the workers. Further negotiations are expected to-day.

It is understood that if a settlement is reached a conciliation board will be set up to avoid stoppages in future.

A WARNING TO STOMACH SUFFERERS

The amazing cures effected by Maclean Brand Stomach Powder, even in cases where all else has failed, have brought on to the market so many imitations of its name and appearance, that you must be very careful to insist on the original product, bearing the signature "ALEX C. MACLEAN."

The formula of Maclean Brand Stomach Powder depends for its effect on its very accurate balance. Any inaccuracy in its composition: any impurity in an ingredient can render it practically useless, and the price at which some of these imitations are sold makes it obvious that they cannot be compounded with the care and equipment used by Macleans Ltd.

The success of the original Maclean Brand Stomach Powder is largely due to the fact that only the highest grade ingredients are used, sifted through the finest silk to ensure that the powder is perfectly smooth, fine, pure and clean. All its intricate mixing and blending is carried on under the watchful eye of highly-qualified chemists under strictly hygienic conditions. Even the very air is cleaned for your greater protection.

Health is too important to risk for the sake of a few pence. When you recommend Maclean's to friends advise them always to see the signature "ALEX C. MACLEAN" and always to ask for it under the full name of Maclean Brand Stomach Power. To ask vaguely for "Maclean's" is to risk getting an inferior article.

The genuine Maclean Brand Stomach Powder is never sold loose but only in bottles in cartons. All good chemists stock it at 1/6, 2/3 and 5/3 in Powder and Tablet form.

PROPOSED NEW INDUSTRIES.

CORK DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION.

At a meeting of the Council of the Cork Industrial Development Association, Mr. J. P. Weldon presiding, arising out of an item on the agenda on the subject of openings for new industries in Cork, a letter was read from a member commenting on the almost complete absence of new industries being started in the city.

Mr. M. Corry, T.D., said that he had been interesting himself for some time in establishing some new industries, and one of these was the tanning industry. A few local people had gone into the question of starting a tannery convenient to the city, and he hoped to see the project taking definite shape. He was afraid that Cork business men were too slow in helping to open up industries in their city.

The Chairman agreed that some practical effort should be made to have a tannery opened, and suggested that they should invite the Lord Mayor and a number of the citizens to give the project their co-operation.

It was agreed that the Association would help in every way possible, and that the Chambers of Commerce be also requested to give the project their support.

Mr. Kiely said that Mr. P. J. O'Hea had recently erected workshops for the assembling of motor lorries and saloon cars.

Mr. Corry said that he was pleased to hear of the enterprise shown by Mr. O'Hea. Another industry closely connected with the motor body building trade was the manufacture of tyres, and he was hopeful that a rubber factory would be established in a local district.

Mr. William Murphy said that he thought the most important industry of all—the foundry industry—was being overlooked. They had thousands of tons of all kinds of metal goods being imported, and he would like to see some practical interest taken in developing the general foundry industry in Cork.

The secretary stated that a number of replies had been received in response to the suggestion made at their previous meeting to send a copy of the letter received from the Industrial Research Council to members for their consideration.

Mr. Buckley said that as a representative of the Cork Coopers' Society, he would like to have the recommendations of his society considered by the Industrial Research Council. As they were aware boxes had replaced kegs and kiels for packing butter, and if the latter were again used instead of boxes it would be a decided advantage to the members of his trade.

It was agreed that the Association would forward the recommendations submitted in the letter received from the Cork Coopers' Society to the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Industry and Commerce for consideration and adoption.

EXPLOSIVES AND ARMS.

MAN CAUGHT IN ARMAGH MILL.

At Armagh Quarter Sessions, before Judge Green, W. H. Bleakley, Montague street, Portadown, and Robert Herron, Drumannon, were charged with having in their possession explosives—viz., two sticks of gelignite; having firearms with intent to endanger life, and breaking into the mill of J. Orr and Son, Cranagill, Co. Armagh, and stealing £2 4s. 11d.

Bleakley was caught in the mill by police in ambush, and circumstantial evidence led to the arrest of Herron. Bleakley pleaded guilty, and said Herron had nothing to do with it. Herron pleaded not guilty.

The explosives were found eight feet from the mill, and in the house of Herron the police found a loaded Service rifle, an Italian carbine, 54 rounds of ammunition and a canister of gunpowder.

On the charge of breaking and entering, Bleakley, who had four previous convictions against him, was sentenced to three years' penal servitude, and the same on the other charges, both to run concurrently.

Herron was sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

PLAYER FORGETS HIS BOOTS

AND HIS TEAM LOSE MATCH.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

WATERFORD, Monday.

A football player without boots seems scarcely less strange than a performance of Hamlet without the Prince of Denmark.

When C.Y.M.S., Dublin, travelled to Waterford to take part in a match against Waterford C.Y.M.S. one of the metropolitan players found on arrival that he was minus his boots. In consequence he had to remain on the side line as a spectator of the game; there was not a pair of boots in possession of the local League to fit the luckless and absent-minded visitor.

Dublin played a man short, and Waterford won two-nil.

LICENSED PREMISES GUTTED.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

LONGFORD, Monday.

The licensed premises of Messrs. F. and H. Egan, Tullamore, at Newtowncashel, Co. Longford, were destroyed by a fire which broke out at 2.30 this morning, when Mrs. Scully, who managed the business, and her family were in bed. The fire was, fortunately, discovered before it had reached the sleeping apartments, and no one was injured.

CORK HOUSING SCHEMES.

At Cork County Board of Health yesterday Mr. R. Kelly thanked the Chairman (Mr. J. Broderick) for his comprehensive and accurate review in the Dail of the housing scheme in County Cork.

The members of the County Council or Health Board, he said, had not held up any part of the housing scheme for the county. On every occasion they had tried to carry through the schemes with the least delay, and any hindrance or shortcoming was due to the way in which the Board was hampered by the "red tape" of the Minister's Department.

It was all very well to say that there were millions of money lying idle. Cork County Board of Health was willing to make use of any money that could be had.

Messrs. Hinchin, R. Daly and Hurley endorsed Mr. Kelly's remarks, and Mr. R. Daly moved that the Minister be requested to appoint an additional arbitrator for Cork County in order to expedite the housing scheme.

Mr. Hinchin seconded the motion, which was passed.

DECREE OF DIVORCE.

Before the President, Sir Boyd Merriman, in the London Divorce Court yesterday, Mrs. Sylvia Frances Vera Masters, Woodrooff, Clonmel, petitioned for the dissolution of her marriage with Mr. A. Masters, on the ground of his adultery. The case was undefended.

Petitioner was married in 1923, and lived with her husband at Church Farm, Rudgeway, Gloucester. In 1926 they separated, and she returned to Ireland to live with her parents.

After evidence was given, his lordship granted a decree nisi and costs.

SPANISH LEVEL-CROSSING DISASTER.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

MADRID, Monday.

At least seventeen people were killed to day at Pola De Gordon, near Leon (Northern Spain), when the Madrid-Asturias express crashed into a charabanc at a level-crossing. The charabanc, which contained about thirty people, was hurled into the river below.

GLOOM IN VIENNA.

EXTREMISTS FEARED.

NEW FORCE MAY BE INEFFECTIVE.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

VIENNA, Monday.

A FEELING of gloom pervades Vienna, and doubts are expressed of the Government's ability to restore peace and order.

Little confidence is shown that the new "Ortswehr," or local Defence Corps, which the Government has announced will be raised to deal with terrorism, will prove effective.

It is feared that, if the death penalty prescribed by the new emergency decrees for terrorist outrages is applied, the extremists in the Nazi and Socialist camps will be exasperated and only the half-hearted intimidated.

The first cases to be dealt with under the Government's new emergency measures against terrorists came before the Vienna Summary Court to-day, when two young men, Roman Koeberl and Josef Rotter, were charged respectively with attacking the Military Magazine at Wels and with bombing an electrical transformer station at Vienna.

Koeberl, who is alleged to have made a confession, was sentenced to five and a half years' imprisonment, only his youth saving him from a heavier sentence. It was announced that he was only 18 years of age, and "therefore, not liable to the death sentence."

Rotter was badly injured in the explosion of his own bomb, and was handed over to the ordinary Court as being unfit to appear before the Summary Court.

It is freely rumoured in Vienna that Austria will be the chief subject of the conversations between Herr Hitler and Signor Mussolini in Rome on Friday.

Austria, it is considered, will be the "bargaining point" in Herr Hitler's efforts to find new allies.

"THE SCHEMER."

ULSTER THEATRE'S NEW PLAY.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

BELFAST, Monday.

"The Schemer," a new play by an Irish author, Mr. Thomas Kelly, was presented in the Opera House, Belfast, to-night, by the Ulster Theatre, and had a very favourable reception from a fairly large audience. The scenes are laid in the little Irish holiday resort of Cloonmayle, and the action moves between the sitting-room of John Moloney, proprietor of a new hotel, and the consulting room of Dr. Brady. Moloney has a pretty daughter, a scheming wife, who is also a good manager not only of the hotel, but of her daughter's love affairs and her husband's ailments. She is particularly anxious that her daughter, Moyna, should give her affections to the clever, if supercilious, young doctor, Vincent Sullivan, the son of a neighbour, who has won distinctions in his medical course, and who acts as locum tenens for Dr. Brady, the old family doctor, who is unable to find the real cause of her husband's illness. The young doctor discovers that it is nothing more serious than "fried potatoes."

John Moloney, from the first, develops an aversion to the young doctor and his cocksure methods. The daughter has another admirer, but her mother cleverly discovers that he has as much interest in her husband's bank account as in her daughter's hand in marriage.

The theme of the play revolves round her efforts to scheme this "admirer" out of his little plan, and to make the way clear for the young doctor's love-making. In the end all things come right; the just is rewarded and the schemer defeated.

The dialogue wanders from the main theme of the schemer and counter-schemer into discussions of medical practice and experience, but there is good fun in it all, and much of the comedy is supplied by Bridget Hennessey, the irrepressible hotel cook (Beth Daly), who butts into the conversation at awkward moments. Ian Wyle, as the hotel proprietor, was a convincing figure, both as the sick man, and the rejuvenated golfer, who shows the young doctor how to swing a club like Bobby Jones. Jean Woods, as Moyna Moloney, is a vivacious, but thoughtful modern Miss, and her acting was one of the outstanding features of the performance. Dr. Brady, as the country doctor, was somewhat overdone, and the same might be said of Peter Cassidy, a dispenser, played by C. Herbert. As comedians, however, they helped to create amusement. Daniel O'Driscoll (Pat Miller), as the hotel boots, was a persistent lover of the hotel cook, but most of his jokes scarcely got over the footlights.

The author has ability which, it is hoped, will be seen in further efforts.

Before this three-act comedy there was a short comedy by William Liddell, entitled "A Majority of One." In parts the acting was crude, but it was not without considerable humour.

SHOOTING OF LABOURER.

ENGLISH SUGAR PLANTER CHARGED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

GEORGETOWN (BRITISH GUIANA), Monday.

Mr. Victor D. Newbrunner, English deputy manager of a sugar estate, has been remanded for trial on a charge of discharging a firearm at an estate labourer with intent to cause him grievous bodily harm.

The case will probably come on this week.

On May 20th a coloured labourer was found with five bullets in his body, and had to be taken to hospital. Mr. Newbrunner pleaded not guilty to the charge of shooting with intent, stating that he was shooting at hawks and had accidentally hit the labourer.

After the affair an angry mob demonstrated on the estate and threatened to attack Mr. Newbrunner, who succeeded in reaching his house in safety, thanks largely to the bravery of his wife, who faced the angry crowd and told them they should learn to fight "one to one."

CASE OF WRONGFUL IMPRISONMENT.

REMARKABLE AFFAIR RECALLED.

A case of wrongful imprisonment is recalled by the recent death at Gateshead, at the age of 77, of Peter Murphy. Murphy and his brother-in-law, Michael Brannagan, were tried in 1879 on charges of burglary and feloniously shooting at the Vicar of Edlingham, Northumberland, the Rev. M. G. H. Buckle, and his daughter. They were arrested at Alnwick and appeared at the Northumberland Assizes at Newcastle. Vainly they protested their innocence.

Sentencing them to penal servitude for life, the Judge said that it was almost a miracle they were not being condemned to death. After nearly ten years had passed two other men confessed to the crime. These men were tried and sentenced to five years' penal servitude, and Murphy and Brannagan were released and received £800 each as compensation.

Less than six weeks after her wedding Elsie Kynaston (21), the daughter of a Johnstown (Denbighshire) innkeeper, and the wife of Albert Kynaston, a Wrexham farmer, was yesterday found dead in a bathroom, with her throat cut. She was happily married, but is believed to have worried over the erection of the farmhouse.

YACHTING.

CLONTARF Y. AND B. CLUB ACTIVITIES.

Taking advantage of the suitable tides, C.Y. and B.C. managed to sail off two matches despite the light conditions last week. At the first time of trial the effort to race had to be abandoned, however, there being no wind in the lower reaches of the Liffey.

The next attempt (7th inst.) was more successful. Six boats started, and the finishing order was—Ben Edar, Iris, Finola, Montana, Ranger. The port and starboard rule had put Falcon out of the running. Ben Edar (Mr. A. Yule) won on handicap, Finola (Mr. J. Taucred) taking second and Iris (Mr. N. Borland) third prize.

There was a better wind (from E. by S.) on the following evening, and this time Montana (Mr. A. Brown) finished a good first and winner on the handicap. The order in of the others was—Ben Edar, Iris, Falcon, Finola, Ranger. Ranger (Mr. J. Patterson) and Falcon (Mr. J. McKay) took second and third on handicap.

HOWTH S.C.—SUTTON DINGHIES (CLASS III.)

Six boats started in Saturday's race over the outside course at Sutton with a moderate south-easterly breeze and a lumpy sea. Pollux and Castor were first to cross the line, but Uranus soon came up and gradually overhauled Castor on seaward leg to North Bar Buoy. Shortly after the start a fog began to blow in and there was some doubt as to whether the North Bar Buoy could be reached before it disappeared in the mist, so Pollux and Dorado gave up. The other boats felt their way on to finish the course with the following result:—

	H.	M.	S.
Uranus—L. Keatinge (3m.) (1)	5	24	0
Castor—K. McFerran (2m.) (2)	5	24	56
Arcturus—H. D. O'Brien (1m.)	5	25	30
Sirius—G. Elliott (3m.) (3)	5	26	20

Pollux (D. Keatinge) and Dorado (T. and Miss J. Chadwick) gave up.

THE AMERICAN MARKETS.

BUSINESS SITUATION HOLDING ITS OWN: STOCKS CLOSE EASY.

REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.

NEW YORK, Monday.

Despite the fact that the business situation seemed to be holding its own, enthusiasm on the Stock Exchange was at a low level today. The shadow of the potential disruption in the steel industry had a considerably restrictive influence on operations, and the list ended slightly down after a turnover of 750,000 shares.

The opening was easy. Profit-taking caused early reactions of fractions to 1 point, with Rails, Industrials and Utilities notably under pressure. Trading then quietened, and some support reappeared, however, prices later fluctuating in a narrow and indecisive manner. Firmer tendencies developed here and there during the afternoon, but numerous leading issues declined fractions to a point, with some selling attributed to reports that Congress may not adjourn this week.

The market closed easy.

The sentiment of the Stock Market for the "long-pull" was generally bullish, but traders to-day were not disposed to extend their commitments pending the outcome of the meeting of Steel Workers' Unions at Pittsburg on Thursday.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Monday.

On the grain market prices early backed and filled narrowly in light trade. There was an absence of leadership, while fears of increasing hedge pressure and the lightness of public participation induced easiness. In subsequent dealings prices rallied on a broader demand from commission houses, while fair decreases in the visible supplies, combined with less favourable foreign crop and weather reports and a continued influx of crop damage advices, encouraged considerable buying and covering by Western and South Western interests, together with reports of beneficial rains in sections to both belts, had an early unsettling effect on the wheat market. Values thereafter rallied on local absorption, bullish sentiment being assisted by reports of damage by chinch bugs, and private advices claiming that the rains were too late in many areas materially to relieve the drought damage. Maize early declined on news of favourable rains and owing to professional selling. The easiness of wheat was also a disturbing factor, but prices then rallied on the bullish "feed" grain situation and in sympathy with the recovery in wheat. Rye and oats fluctuated in unison with the movements in other cereals.

WHEAT opened steady, ⅛c. up to unchanged, and closed barely steady, ⅜c. higher to ⅜c. lower.

SIGNIFICANT PARIS TALKS.

JUGOSLAVIA THE "VITAL LINK."

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

PARIS, Monday.

M. Jevtitch, the Jugoslav Foreign Minister, who is here on a visit of high political importance, started his conversations with M. Barthou, the French Foreign Minister, this afternoon.

M. Jevtitch's visit at this moment is regarded here as of peculiar significance, for it is wedged in between M. Barthou's visits to Warsaw and Prague, the recent meeting at Geneva, and the recognition of the U.S.S.R. by the Little Entente on the one hand, and M. Barthou's forthcoming visits to Bucharest and Belgrade, the Hitler-Mussolini meeting at Padua, and M. Barthou's visit to London in July, on the other.

The Padua meeting and Italy form the axis of this "diplomatic merry-go-round," in which M. Jevtitch's visit is involved. Jugoslavia is not only an hereditary ally of France, but is also regarded as a vital link in two chains—first, between the Little Entente and the Balkan League, and second between France, the Little Entente, the Balkan League and Soviet Russia.

DISHORNING OF CATTLE.

FINES AT SWORDS.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

DROGHEDA, Monday.

At Swords District Court to-day, John Cusack, Mitchelstown, Athboy, County Meath, was fined 1s. for dishorning cattle without using an anæsthetic.

Captain Sidney J. Parr, also of Athboy, was fined £5, with £5 5s. costs, for permitting dishorning to take place on Cloghran Stud Farm, of which he is manager.

Mr. Fred. Healy, V.S., a State witness, swore that he saw nineteen young bullocks on the farm two weeks after they had been dishorned. The operation appeared to have been carried out in a rough-and-ready manner. Dishorning is an extremely painful operation. There was a popular idea that dishorned cattle fatten quicker than cattle with horns, but he did not agree with that, and considered the operation brutality and gross cruelty.

Mr. J. Cawley, barrister-at-law, who defended, said that the facts were admitted.

Captain Parr swore that he thought the old Act was a dead-letter, as 75 per cent. of the cattle in this country were dishorned.

The Justice said that he would not take as serious a view as Mr. Healy, V.S., but if cattle must be dishorned, at least, it must be done with humanity.

DOMINICAN COLLEGE, NEWBRIDGE.

NEWBRIDGE, Monday.

To-day was Prize Day at the Dominican College, Newbridge. The guests, parents and friends of the boys were received in the lawn by the Prior, the Very Rev. Father Dalton. The visitors were entertained to a musical recital by Dr. J. Cuypers and the college orchestra. The Dramatic Society produced the amusing sketch, "Vice versa," and tea was afterwards served in the pavilion.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE.

FRENCH DERBY FORM.

WEEDS FILLY WINS THE BREEDERS' FOAL PLATE.

From Our Travelling Correspondent,

BIRMINGHAM, Monday Night.

SOME of the horses that ran here this afternoon raced like cats on hot bricks, and the course was very much like hot bricks, too; for there was a blazing sun pouring down on ground that was baked hard.

It was poor racing, and we will let it rest for a moment and discuss the French Derby of yesterday. Here, marvellous to relate, M. Leon Volterra's Admiral Drake, who had finished last of all in our Derby last week, finished third, beaten a length and a half and three-parts by Duplex and Pons Legend, who was the mount of Johnstone, Lord Glanely's jockey.

Now, Admiral Drake was last on merit at Epsom. He simply never could go with them, and was made to look like a plater. But the Longchamp air must have bucked him up again; for we cannot believe that the French form is as bad as it appears from reading the results of the two races.

Duplex, the winner, is, like Easton (second in our Derby), by Dark Legend, and carried the same colours as Admiral Drake.

NOT RECOGNISED.

His trainer, the Belgian Carlier, must have been keeping an angel unknown to himself; for the colt was at a long price. Efforts were made to obtain an English jockey for him, and Gordon Richards was offered the mount, as was Johnstone, but both refused.

M. Volterra, who has large music hall and cinema interests in France, is a fairly recent recruit to racing, but he has been having a remarkable run of luck with his horses.

I see, by the way, that in a letter published this morning Mr. R. S. Sievier suggests that Lord Glanely should issue a challenge on behalf of Colombo to the Maharajah of Rajpipla to run a match between him and Windsor Lad. More than thirty years ago Mr. Sievier owned one of the greatest, if not the greatest, mares of all time—Sceptre; and when she was beaten in the Derby, unplaced behind Ard Patrick, Mr. Sievier offered to run his filly against the winner for £10,000 aside, play or pay.

MATCH NOT MADE.

The late Mr. Gubbins was too wily to accept such a challenge. As a matter of fact, when Ard Patrick met Sceptre in the Eclipse in the following year he beat her, but only by a nose. I am very much afraid that we shall not see such a delectable morsel as a match between Colombo and Windsor Lad.

The racing here was featureless. The Beckhampton filly, Radiation, was made favourite for the Warwickshire Breeders' Foal Plate, in which she could only finish fifth. The winner turned up in a big white-faced, white-stockinged filly by Apelle out of Weeds, trained in Miss Wilmot's stable.

SCOPE FOR IMPROVEMENT.

She began to draw away when they had covered half the journey, and finally won by three lengths from Coppelia, Flying Torch finishing third. There is much scope for improvement in the winner, who has good speed.

Only seven ran for the Birmingham Plate, comfortably won by the big Radley Wood, by Tremola, who beat British Quota and the bottom weight, Mestre, by half a length and a length and a half.

This fellow, who belongs to a Berkshire butcher-farmer, Mr. J. E. Cottrell, should make a hurdler. He is a half-brother to Bagley Wood, who has won races under National Hunt Rules.

Canoparia, who was plating as a two-year-old and again last year, won the Coombe Plate for her owner-trainer, Jack Colling, after Pressenda had turned it up and was well beaten.

Joule, a gelding by Junior, won the first selling race and was bought in for 250 guineas, while Homocea, who won the two-year-old selling event, made 350 guineas to Mr. A. F. Haines, the owner of the second, Mary Joan.

SELECTIONS.

Racing should be a little better here to-morrow, when that good staying colt, ALCAZAR, runs for the Midland Breeders' Foal Plate, which he should win.

The Epsom winner, BAGMAN, may win the Guernsey Stud Produce Stake, and INFLATION may take the Packington Plate.

At Lewes the Spring Handicap may be won by PERSIST and the Landport Maiden by the SHANGANAGH LADY gelding.

GALTEE MORE.

ALCAZAR MAY SCORE.

VOTE FOR SKILLIGALEE IN THE PACKINGTON PLATE.

ALTHOUGH one or two of the races will be weakly contested the fields at Birmingham will be larger than might have been feared after yesterday's racing, which ended with what was reduced to a match. Of the eight probable starters for the Midland Breeders' Foal Plate Alcazar, Potiphar, Abbot's Last and Gay Dancer make most appeal at first glance.

Alcazar was making his first appearance of the season when winning the Penrhyn Cup at Hurst Park, and that race showed us that he is very useful at a mile. The extra weight he has to carry this time will not be such a burden on the absolutely level course. Potiphar failed at York after his fine Chester victory, but he ran a good second to Law Maker, whose position in the market gave hint of the fact that he was one of Manton's "good things." If he is beaten to-day it will be due more to the state of the going than to any lack of fitness.

Abbots Last has it in him to win races, but after his defeat by Mayflower at Salisbury I have made up my mind to leave him out on this occasion. Gay Dancer may not be seen at his best until we get plenty of rain, and reducing the issue to and Potiphar I prefer the former.

Bagman, Red Biddy and Winandermere may be all that will turn out for the Guernsey Stud Produce Stakes. Bagman has already shown himself as being one of the best in R. C. Dawson's yard, and as he won over the adamant chalky going at Epsom last week there should be no fear of his being "stumped up" here.

RED BIDDY

was backed like a certainty for her race at Salisbury, and she may score again.

A bigger field of youngsters will run for the Packington Plate, but will probably prove superior to the others. I am told that he is one of F. Darling's most promising two-year-olds.

QUARTZ,

a winner over the course, should beat Might Surprise and others in the Bull Ring Plate.

The welter weights carried in the Lewes Spring Handicap will assist whose hurdling efforts will have made him used to such burdens. Mr. Boxall's horse may not find it easy to hold off Yum Yum and Silver Box, but I think he will stay on just the better on the climb to the post.

NEWMARKET NOTES.

FANCIED HORSES AT BIRMINGHAM AND LEWES.

NEWMARKET, Monday.

THIS morning Bell gave Ravioli and Captain Courageous a good pace gallop over one mile on the Bury side. The latter moved well throughout, and he should pick up a race shortly, as he is in much better condition than when he finished third to Hoplite and Bishop's Move at our last fixture. Ravioli, who is now at his best, should soon be seen in winning form.

Major Beatty sent Manacle one mile at a nice pace by himself. This three-year-old son of Manna and Belle Toi has only been seen in public once this season, for the Classic Trial Stakes at Kempton Park. He was not then fit, but he is one that should be followed for his future engagements, as he has shown good improvement in his recent gallops. Gold Bridge was slipped along over five furlongs, as was Clustine.

Frank Butters gave his Newbury Summer Cup candidate, Robber Chief, in company with Osman Pasha, a striding pace gallop over one mile, and he is in good trim for his race on Thursday next. Achtenan strode out well in a nice pace gallop over one mile, as did Felicitation.

Captain Boyd-Rochfort gave Alcazar a smart six furlongs spin with Meldrum. The former is in capital trim to meet his engagement in the Midland Breeders' Foal Plate at Birmingham.

The Hon. George Lambton gave his Royal Hunt Cup candidates, Pricket and Versicle, a nice pace gallop over seven furlongs, and the selected of this pair will play a prominent part.

T. E. Leader gave Light o' Love a nice gallop over one mile with Navy Blue. The former seems none the worse for his hard race at York, for which he was considered very unlucky to be beaten.

The best gallop to take place on the racecourse side was that to which J. Cannon subjected Within-the-Law over a mile and a quarter. With Moonlighter he moved in his best style, and if the going is on the firm side at Ascot next week he will give a very forward display in the Ascot Stakes on the opening day.

Digby gave his hand off a half-speed gallop over one mile with The Scribe, Blandtonah, Embosser, Bacht, Diamantee, and Intervener, and he, too, will give a prominent display in the Ascot Stakes.

At Birmingham to-morrow we have Prunier, Nil Nisi, Winkle, and under orders for the Tamworth Selling Plate, and I prefer the chance of the last named.

GUILDER

ran very well in a similar event to the Bromford Selling Plate at Yarmouth, and being nicely weighted should about win.

We have a well-fancied runner in Mrs. Sinkins for the Packington Plate, and I prefer her to Sea Bequest, Tara's Queen, and Stolen Goods, but I doubt if she will beat the well-galloped

MAID OF ARCHES (next best).

Gay Dancer will give a good account of himself in the Midland Breeders' Foal Plate, and Blandtonah and Carrickore are fit and well, but I look to

SHREDLEY

should account for Partner and Bisley in the Bull Ring Plate.

At Lewes my fancies are:—3.30, Carus; 4.0, Ballet Dancer; 4.30, Shanganagh Lady gelding.*

SOUTHERNMORE AGAIN

OUTSIDERS SCORE AT THURLES MEETING.

YESTERDAY at Thurles was the hottest day experienced at an Irish race meeting this season, and, were it not for a gentle breeze, the conditions would have been overpowering. The popularity of the meeting showed no signs of waning. There was a very satisfactory attendance, especially on the course, where everyone pays for admission.

Linby Hall, who made such a favourable impression on the occasion of his first appearance at Dundalk, gave anything but an encouraging display in the Ladies' Plate, and seemed to be well beaten when he bolted at the top of the straight. With Mr. Duggan's horse out of the reckoning one would have expected Kate's Team to have accounted for the others, but he was well beaten by Battle Eve, who was one of the outside division.

LOVELY HEROD STAYS BETTER.

Lovely Herod, who won recently at Dundalk, showed improved form by a runaway win in the Committee Steeplechase. He, as usual, took a long lead early in the fray, but, instead of stopping near the end, he came home an easy winner, and apparently his stamina has improved considerably.

Molino, who ran in the Irish Two Thousand Guineas, was meeting horses of a very inferior class in the race for the Totalisator Presentation Plate, and, ridden by Mr. E. Parkinson, he gave this young amateur a very easy winning ride.

Southernmore, having only Dark Bride in opposition for the Southern Steeplechase, defied her penalty, and scored her third victory off the reel. Captain Gargan's mare is now an accomplished fencer, and should win many more races for her owner.

POPULAR LOCAL WINNER.

Kat, one of the last of the progeny of Roi Herode, credited Mr. R. Kennedy with the Thurles Plate, beating, among others, Magor, a winner of two races recently. Mr. Wellesley, who rode Kat, and also trains her, had hopes of scoring a double event with Istone in the June Plate, a steeplechase for maidens. Istone, however, got all the bad luck of the race, for, after meeting with interference when Double Shadow fell at the third last fence, he had little room in the straight owing to the crowd on the course, and he was beaten by Thurles Hero. The latter is by St. Dunstan, out of the dam of Cabra Castle, and is owned by Mr. Joseph Hickey, a local business man, whose son, Mr. M. Hickey, rode him. The winner was a complete outsider, but was supported for small sums by many local people, and the success was naturally very popular. Details:—

MOTOR CYCLING.

SCOTLAND'S YEAR?

GUTHRIE BREAKS RECORDS IN THE JUNIOR T.T. RACE.

IRELAND having held the field for two successive years, this looks like being Scotland's year in Manxland. Following Norman Black's win in the car race, Jimmy Guthrie, of Hawick, yesterday won the first of the three Tourist Trophy races, the event for junior machines, of under 350 cubic centimetres engine capacity.

Guthrie is no stranger to the Isle of Man. A previous winner of the light-weight race, he has been second on three occasions, and on the Continent and in Ireland he has proved himself to be in the front rank of present-day speed men. His two wins in Ireland this year pointed to him as being at the top of his form and that his Norton was faster than his machine of last year.

GREAT SPEEDS.

He demonstrated it unmistakably yesterday, for he broke the lap record for junior machines by covering one of the 37¾ miles circuits at 80.11 miles an hour, an improvement of a mile and a half per hour on Stanley Woods's record of last year, and, by winning at 79 miles an hour for the 264 miles, an improvement of just over a mile per hour on Woods's speed in winning in 1933.

Although Guthrie took the lead on the first lap of the race and never lost it, his victory was not assured until the second man finished. The latter was Simpson, who by the small margin of nine seconds lost his chance of winning his first Tourist Trophy.

From the first lap the issue lay between this pair, with Handley as a source of potential trouble. Guthrie led Simpson by two seconds and Handley by four seconds at the end of the first circuit, and increased the margin to ten and forty-two seconds respectively on the second lap. Guthrie was sixteen seconds in front of Simpson on the third circuit, Handley being a couple of minutes behind.

SIMPSON'S CHALLENGE.

Guthrie put 44 more seconds to his credit on the fourth lap, but his lead was reduced to eight seconds when he refuelled on the fifth lap, and he and Simpson settled down to ride out the remaining laps of the race in the most determined manner. Divided by two minutes on the road, and averaging approximately the same speed, ten seconds separated them when they entered the last circuit.

Although Simpson gained a second he was already beaten when he crossed the line. The three Norton riders held the first three positions until the end of the fifth lap, but Handley fell at Governor's Bridge hairpin on the penultimate lap, and retired, letting Nott, on a Husqvarna, into third place, nearly six minutes behind the winner.

After this trio came an unbroken string of seven Velocettes, all the riders winning gold replicas.

Run in tropical weather, which caused roads figuratively to swim with molten tar, the race was notable for the remarkably high degree of reliability shown by the machines. Of the 27 starters 16 finished, all the retirals being due to mechanical trouble.

HOW IRISHMEN FARED.

Of the three Irishmen in the race (Stanley Woods not riding), Walter Rusk, of Belfast, was the best, and had he not suffered from an oily plug in the later stages he might have been higher than seventh, although he was never above that position.

Manders was never prominent, and finished with an inoperative clutch. After falling twice without injury to himself, but damaging his machine, Tyrell Smith retired.

AUSTRALIA ON TOP IN TEST.

ENGLAND'S BIG DEFICIT.

PLUCKY STAND BY HENDREN AND GEARY AT NOTTINGHAM.

ONCE again the gates at Trent Bridge had to be closed before lunch, and a crowd which looker bigger than on Saturday followed a tense struggle under a hot June sun with the keenest possible attention. Up to lunch time and for a little while afterwards they saw one of the grimmest struggles that could be imagined, when England, who had wound up on Saturday with four men out for 128 and still required 97 to save the follow-on, were engaged in the formidable task of endeavouring to get on terms.

In this great effort, which was to a certain extent achieved, Hendren played the leading part, but almost as much honour went to George Geary, and the plucky and resolute manner in which he backed up Hendren recalled vividly his sterling work in the Test match at Leeds in 1926. On that occasion, it may be recalled, England had lost eight wickets for 182 in face of Australia's total of 494, and Geary and Macaulay in a splendid stand added 108 for the ninth partnership in two hours. They did not save the follow-on, but that resistance enabled England to draw a match which before looked to be well lost.

What the ultimate effect of yesterday's partnership will be remains to be seen, but it is sufficient to state that Hendren and Geary avoided all danger of the follow-on and showed that the Australian bowling could be mastered. They came together when six men were out for 165, and a very essential 60 runs were still wanted.

A DISASTROUS START.

Pataudi, Saturday's not out with Hendren, quickly went at 145, caught in the slips from a stroke at an off ball there was not the slightest necessity to attempt. Ames stayed fifty minutes, looking in agony most of the time and, incidentally, keeping everyone else on tenterhooks by the timorous manner in which he was facing a desperate situation. He was out at 165 trying to hit O'Reilly to leg.

Then Geary joined Hendren, who all this time had batted splendidly, taking no undue risks, yet seldom or ever missing a reasonable chance of scoring. He played Grimmett beautifully, taking his block on or just outside the leg stump, and avoiding the danger of leg before to Grimmett's top spinner by playing down the line of the ball instead of trying to place it for a single to the on with a cross bat. Thus half Grimmett's danger was checkmated.

Geary at once showed that the position did not daunt him in the slightest, and ten minutes' further play carried the score to 171. Grimmett had then bowled for eighty minutes without a rest, and was obviously requiring one. So Woodfull took him off and put Chipperfield on. This, as it happened, was the turning point in England's struggle, for in three overs Hendren scored 18 runs off Chipperfield, while Geary, taking heart of grace from his partner's example, clouted O'Reilly for three fours in one over. Woodfull certainly took a chance in trying a man playing in his first Test as Chipperfield was, and the venture failed and gave England hope—not of winning, but of saving the game.

THE FOLLOW-ON SAVED.

Thenceforward runs came at a better pace, both batsmen playing so well and judging their runs so cleverly that just after one o'clock the follow-on was saved. It had been a terrific struggle, and no praise could be too high for Hendren and Geary. Once after that Geary put up a ball desperately near Darling at forward short leg, but lunch came with the two still together and the score up to 240.

Later on a tremendous cheer greeted Geary's 50—Hendren had long since reached his—and altogether the two added 101 runs in an hour and fifty minutes before O'Reilly, going on again at 266, bowled Hendren first ball. Batting three hours and forty minutes, Hendren played a glorious innings for his side, and hitting nine fours brought with his innings of 79 his aggregate in five attempts against the Australians this season to 383. With his departure all further resistance ceased, Geary and Verity leaving at 266—the same total as when Hendren went—and Farnes two later.

Thus at three o'clock England, after batting six hours and twenty-five minutes, were all out for 268, 106 runs behind, but the position, unflattering though it may have been, was infinitely better than at ten minutes past 12 when Ames left. Yesterday 140 runs were scored in three-and-a-quarter hours for five wickets. It remains here to add that Geary made his 53 in an hour and 55 minutes, and hit ten fours—with the exception of two snicks, both safe—all good strokes.

Grimmett, of course, did the damage in bowling, with five wickets in more than 58 overs for 81 runs, but O'Reilly, with four for 75 in 37 overs, did valuable work for his side, especially in dismissing Hammond and Hendren.

WOODFULL FAILS AGAIN.

The thrills of the day were not over, for, on Australia going in a second time, Woodfull, trying to turn a ball fine to leg, was, to his obvious surprise, bowled leg stump by the fifth ball of the first over. Brown came in and caused everyone's heart to miss a beat by snicking the remaining ball of the over between Hammond and Geary in the slips. After that, apart from one streaky over from Verity, Brown batted admirably, showing excellent style and nice stroke play. He lost Ponsford at 32, and, following the tea interval, Bradman, after a merry little display, during which it could not truthfully be said that he looked absolute master of the situation, was caught by the wicket-keeper standing back at 69.

The pitch at the pavilion end seemed to be giving a little, for Verity found a spot which was responsive to spin, but actually there was nothing dreadfully wrong with it. Farnes bowled very fast, and Hammond and Geary kept a good length, but Mitchell, as in the first innings, presented no difficulties to the batsmen, though he should have had a wicket at 102. Brown, who was then 33, jumping right in, only to scramble back as Ames fumbled the ball and let it drop.

FAST SCORING.

Meanwhile, with McCabe playing a strong forcing game, with every loose ball properly punished, and many good ones as well, the score went at a rare pace, and England steadily lost way. McCabe completed 51 out of 58 in 50 minutes, while Brown went on quietly putting bat against ball.

McCleery (Woodvale), and E. D. R. Shearer (City of Derry).

TRINITY IN STRONG POSITION.

ENNIS'S BIG EFFORT FOR THE PAST.

The opening event of Trinity Week, the match between Dublin University Present and Past, which started yesterday in the College Park, provided a full and interesting day's cricket. The Present, batting first, occupied the wickets two and three-quarter hours for their total of 167, and the Past, in a little over two hours, were dismissed for 120. Thus the Present hold the useful lead of 47 runs, and unless they collapse to-day are well on the road to victory.

The Present made a bad start, losing their captain, G. K. Donald, for 5, with the score at 9. Subsequently the side batted in consistent style, and eight reached double figures. C. R. Cuffe, who opened, showed a sound defence in collecting 25, and C. W. Mellon, E. S. Barber, J. C. Martin, D. R. Tarleton and C. W. Auchmuty also made useful scores. The last wicket partnership between Tarleton and Auchmuty added 29. W. J. McMahon proved the best of the Past bowlers with 4 wickets for 35.

ENNIS TO THE RESCUE.

The Past made a disastrous start, losing half their wickets for 38, but J. T. Ennis came to the rescue, and with McMahon added 54 for the ninth wicket. Ennis hit with all his old time freedom, and his contribution of 59 included eight boundaries. Earlier on Ganly batted freely and seemed set for a big score when held by Tarleton off Cope for 20. W. J. Pinkerton, last year's captain, was batting well when held on a brilliant catch by Donald. Cope, with 3 wickets for 23, proved the most successful of the Trinity bowlers.

A resumption will be made to-day at noon. Score:—

MASONIC RETAIN JUNIOR SCHOOLS' CUP.

Masonic School have retained the Leinster Junior Schools' Cup, which they won last year, beating Catholic University School in the final at the Leinster C.C. ground yesterday by 34 runs. Masonic batted first, but lost half their wickets for 32 runs, but Ferguson and Greene, in an excellent stand, put on 33 runs for the sixth wicket. A great piece of bowling by S. Robb then caused a collapse, as he got the remaining five wickets for as many runs, and the side was out for 71. W. Dawson had bowled well earlier, and in the end had 3 wickets for 15 runs.

C.U.S. could do little against the bowling of R. Montgomery and G. Greene, and were all out in less than an hour for 37. The fielding of Masonic was sharp. The School has a chance of bringing off the double, as the senior team has reached the final of the Senior Schools' Cup, in which they meet King's Hospital on the Leinster C.C. ground on Monday and Tuesday, June 25th and 26th. BOXING.

VERDICT FOR MASON ON A FOUL.

SMITH GIVES CHAMPION A HARD FIGHT.

At Birmingham last night, Harry Mason, of London, won the welter-weight championship of Great Britain, Len Smith, of Birmingham, being disqualified in the fourteenth round.

Smith began aggressively, and Mason found it difficult to keep him off. In the second round Smith, with a left to the stomach, sent Mason reeling on the ropes, and the Midlander kept up a strong attack to the end of the round. Mason had the better of the third round, in which he punished Smith severely, and again in the fourth round Mason fought splendidly. He did not have it all his own way, for Smith got in a right to the head and missed with a left-hook to the stomach. He sent a hard right to the jaw, but Mason retaliated with two beautiful left-hand punches. Mason's left eye was damaged towards the end of this round.

MASON DOWN THRICE.

In the fifth round Mason smashed in a right to the stomach, but Smith kept worrying him. Mason's cleverness stood him in good stead, and his defence was admirable, but Smith showed speed, and never lost a chance of going for Mason with both hands. He brought forth cheers from the crowd when, in the ninth round, he launched a fierce onslaught that made Mason reel about the ring, and the Londoner went down for a count of six.

When he got up Smith rushed forward again and lashed out with left and right. It was an amazing round, and how Mason managed to survive it only he can tell.

Mason was down again in the eleventh from a stiff left to the body, followed by a right swing, but he was on his feet before the timekeeper could begin to count, and both were fighting desperately. Smith landed a left to the stomach and sent Mason down. Mason claimed a foul, but the referee, Mr. Jim Kenrick, refused to allow it, and as Mason got up at the count of "nine" the gong sounded.

THE END.

In the twelfth round they "mixed" it freely. The pace was still very fast, and a good many blows were now going astray. Mason was crowding on everything, but Smith caught him nicely with a left to the stomach, and followed with a nice left swing to the head.

Both men were punching with a will, and there was little to choose between them. Smith was still doing the forcing, and a left hook to the stomach from him weakened his opponent.

In the fourteenth round Smith ran in and swung a left. Mason dropped, and the referee without hesitation sent Smith to his corner and awarded Mason the fight.

GAELIC GAMES.

CAVAN'S BIG WIN IN BOSTON.

SECOND HALF PLAYED IN THUNDERSTORM.

BOSTON, Monday.

Playing in a blinding thunderstorm for most of the second half, the touring Cavan team defeated a combined New York and Boston side here yesterday by 11 points to nil, before 6,000 spectators. The score at half-time was 7-0

In the first half Magee scored a goal for the Irish champions, after which Devlin marked two points and McGovern and Smallhorn one point each. The Cavan men swarmed over the Americans in this period. The Americans rallied well in the second half, however, and tried repeatedly to pierce the visitors' staunch defence. In the course of some rapid exchanges Smith, Devlin and Lynch were injured and had to be carried off. Their injuries were not serious, but they were replaced by Boylan, Brady and P. O'Reilly.

Smallhorn, who appeared to be in his element in the driving rain, added three points in quick succession, and a little later the Americans muffed a wonderful opportunity of scoring. From that moment Cavan tore down the field and Phair added another point.

After the game the Cavan team were the guests at a banquet, given at the Hotel Westminster, at which they were presented with two silver Cups, one from the local Cavan Men's Association and the other from the Central Council of the Massachusetts Irish Associations.

BALLYMENA LEAVES THE IRISH LEAGUE.

Ballymena Football Club have definitely severed their connection with the Irish League. The Irish Football Association recently ordered them to produce their books by June 9th in connection with allegations of payment to amateur players, but this was not done.

LAWN TENNIS.

CLOSE MATCH FOR A. E. FANNIN.

FITZWILLIAM CLUB TOURNAMENT.

With entries of quite a high standard, the Fitzwilliam Club tournament, which commenced yesterday, should provide an interesting week's tennis. Yesterday was devoted to the first round of the men's singles, and there were no surprises, but R. G. Brown put up an excellent performance in taking the second set from A. E. Fannin, after losing the first to love. Fannin's driving was very accurate at the start, and he was putting the ball into the corners, but Brown retrieved splendidly in the second set, and by keeping a fine length, forced his opponent into errors. Fannin came back to his best in the third set, but it was well fought to the end. Another good match was that between E. H. Porter and B. F. Coster, both driving very hard on the forehand. Coster led 3-1 in the final set, but Porter made a strong recovery, taking five of the next six games for the match.

The holder of the Singles Cup V. Allman Smith, did extremely well to only concede C. A. Jackson four games. He was as fast about the court as ever and placed his volleys very cleverly. B. R. Towers' extra pace off the ground gave him a close victory over T. V. Murphy, while R. B. Pringle made very few mistakes against N. D. Good. Results:—

SEASONABLE NOTES.

Writing on this subject in the Weekly Irish Times, the Poultry Correspondent says:—

As the warmth of the sun increases, do not neglect to provide shade for the chickens in enclosed run, and even those on free range should be given shade where nature has not provided it. On a very hot day the young birds are often inclined to crowd into their house to obtain shade. The houses should be placed near to a shady spot, and, if necessary, some kind of a place should be erected where they can sit out of the rays of the sun. Old branches of trees could be used, and canvas stretched over them.

As soon as cockerels are selected for breeding purposes, those not required should be disposed of. If there are well-bred birds among the surplus which would be good for breeding purposes, these should be advertised at a reasonable price, as it is not easy to sell them at this time of the year. Others can be fattened for table purposes. For this they should not be more than four months old, as they get big and bony and lose flesh as they get older. If not sold at four months, they are better kept until they are fully grown, and then fattened for the Christmas market. Small cockerels such as the Leghorn breed should be used when they are very young, and weigh about two pounds, as they have more flesh then.
